Will Rogers on Benefit Bill!

FILM STARS TO LEND TALENT

Louise Dresser Lining Up Great Array for Widows' Relief Fund Show

"There isn't going to be any program, it's just going to be a time when we are all going to be just ourselves for one great big cause!"

That's the spirit with which Louise Dresser this morning reviewed the professional cast, headed by Will Rogers and his monologue-inspiring rope, that will give the benefit Tuesday night, November 6, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse to complete the relief fund for the mother and little family of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who lost their lives fighting the hill fire Saturday afternoon, October 13.

Professionals Respond

Stars of the silver sheet and legitimate stage will appear behind the footlights to aid Glendale in what Miss Dresser has so fittingly called "one great big cause."

And it is a cause with a heart appeal and professional men and women of national prominence have responded by volunteering their services.

Glendalians who have long admired Will Rogers on the screen will have an opportunity of seeing and hearing this popular actor and of applauding his clever art.

Others On Bill

Then there will be Milton Sills, another film favorite, whose talent includes eloquent public speaking. Miss Dresser states that Mr. Sills will undoubtedly be the speaker of the evening and that his eloquence and pleasing stage presence will but cement the friendship of his many Glendale admirers.

Other professionals taking part will be Miss Dresser and her husband Jack Gardner, who will appear together; Clara Kimball Young, beautiful film star; Ruth Roland, well known in Glendale, who has just completed an Orpheum engagement; Lucile Cavanaugh, talented dancer; Wanda Hawley, who will give songs and pianologues; and Lionel Belmore, popular for his clever wit and stories.

Fund Steadily Grows

Meanwhile, the fund being raised through The Glendale Evening News for the relief of the families of the fire victims steadily grows. Those who have made pledges are requested to immediately send in their checks

CIVIL WAR FEAR OF MOROS TOLD

Smudgy Finger Prints Attest Opposition to Filipino Independence

By SEARS TAYLOR
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—With the smudgy fingerprints of village "head men" as signatures, a document protesting against the granting of independence to the Philippines has been received by Secretary of War Weeks from the Moro tribes, it was learned today.

The protest, which comes at a time when the Philippine situation is causing the administration deep concern because of the disaffection of the legislative leaders, will be submitted to President Coolidge for consideration.

While the message was not made public, it was understood that the Moros' chief objection to Philippine independence was that civil war would immediately break out in the islands between the non-Christian tribes located for the most part on the island of Mindanao and the Christian Filipinos of Luzon if the guardian hand of the United States were removed.

Civil war, they contend, would eventually mean the extermination of one of the two factions.

Army officials declare that the recent insurrection of the Moros and other similar revolts are not directed, as is generally supposed, against the United States or American soldiers, but against the Christian Filipinos.

New Suit Stops Suit Over Suit at Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 23.—This is the tale of a suit that nearly caused a suit.

Death claimed a local man this week. His family sent his best suit to the tailor to have it cleaned and pressed as his shroud.

A local business man likewise sent his suit to be cleaned and pressed. Both were delivered in due time.

The same day the business man entered the tailor shop with a suit on his arm.

'This is not my suit," he told the cleaner, "and I want mine."

The tailor took one look and sped out the back way to the undertaker.

"Sorry," replied the undertaker to his breathless statement that he had delivered the wrong suit to the dead man, "but the body was buried an hour ago."

The tailor avoided a suit over the suit by buying the business man a new suit.

COUNCIL SELECTS SEWER ENGINEERS

Burns & McDonnell to Put Large Force in Field on Preliminary Work

Following a week's consideration of applications, the city council late Monday afternoon selected the engineering firm of Burns & McDonnell of Kansas City and Los Angeles, to prepare plans and cost estimates for Glendale's proposed sewer system.

This firm was the unanimous choice of the council, the motion to employ them being made by Councilman Asa Hall and seconded by Councilman W. A. Horn.

The compensation agreed upon is to be 5 per cent of the cost of the sewer up to $1,000,000, and two and one-half per cent of any additional cost.

To Open Offices Here

Chester Smith, a member of the firm, is now seeking an office location in Glendale, and plans to start work immediately, with a crew of ten or twelve engineers. He estimates that a survey of the city can be made within thirty days.

In addition to complete data necessary for the sewer plans, the engineers will compile statistics to be used in the interest of the bond issue.

The head men of the engineering firm are Clinton L. Burns and J. E. McDonnell, and it is interesting to note that both were formerly California men. They are both graduates of Stanford university, the former with the class of 1896 and the latter 1897.

Well Recommended

Over 500 municipal works have been designed by Burns & McDonnell. They submitted scores of letters of commendation from city officials scattered throughout the country, one being from Riverside where in 1912 the firm was engaged to appraise three water systems the city purchased at a cost of $1,200,000.

Ford Is Democrats' Best Bet, Says Allen

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas and prominently mentioned as Republican timber for the vice-presidential nomination in 1924, declared in an interview today that he was certain of three things:

That the state and federal governments can co-ordinate to find a way to make prohibition effective.

That Henry Ford is the most potential candidate the Democrats possess for the next presidential fight.

That the farmers of the country have come to a greater realization of their legislative needs than their professional friends credit them with.

St. Louis Roadhouse Slayers Are Sought

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—One of the greatest hunts in the history of St. Louis county was under way today by city and county authorities for the bandits who early this morning held up the patrons of Plantation Inn, at Wellston, a suburb, and when resisted, shot and killed Richard Grant and his wife, Rose, both of Chicago, and fatally wounded Wilbur Stalneker, Grant chauffeur, also of Chicago. The holdups scooped up $50 from a cash register and made their escape in the pandemonium that followed the sudden shooting.

All Ready for Big Show on North Brand Above Doran Street

The big tent is up, the corn is popped, the lemonade is pinked, the band is ready, the clowns are in false face—in short, the Sciots' circus on North Brand boulevard between Milford and Doran streets is "rarin' to go." Tonight is the opening night. Anticipation runs high.

And four Glendale girls are ready to vie with one another for votes in the popularity contest that is to be one of the outstanding features of the affair. They are Misses Olive Middleton, Gladys Kattleman, Margaret Longley and Corrine Orff.

The Sciots' band, numbering fifty-two expert musicians, will open festivities with a barrage of harmony, under the direction of Frank Witherell.

Twelve Acts

The circus acts will be twelve in number, the same Carl Horney's fun melange that recently entertained the Sciots in San Francisco. There will also be a number of concessions, among them an American legion booth and a pop-corn dispensary in charge of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church, these latter dressed as farmerettes.

Balloons will be given away free to the children tonight, as a special dispensation from the members of Pyramid No. 39 of Sciots, it is announced, and there will be other opening night attractions.

Clark Like Man Who Buried Bundle, Claim

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 23.—T. J. Downey, a hog rancher living in Mission valley, a few miles from the Mision drive home of George E. Schick, strangely disappeared broker, was brought to the county jail this morning and said E. Drew Clark "looks like" the man he saw burying something in the valley early in March.

HOLDUP VICTIMS CHASE BANDITS

Glendale Young Folks Get Thrilling Experience in Beverly Hills

Reports of a daring hold-up in Bevery Hills late last night, in which three young folks of Glendale and a friend from Hollywood were the victims, is made by Kenneth Ketchum of 1121 South Adams street, driver of the car that was stopped.

Others in the party were Miss Emma Sebastian and Miss Magdelin Nesbit of 1717 East Gardena avenue, and Charles Dohrman of 28½ Prospect avenue, Hollywood, the latter a close friend of Mr. Ketchum and Miss Nesbit, of Waukegan, Ill., being a guest of Miss Sebastian.

The party were driving along Santa Monica boulevard, Beverly Hills, at 12:30 o'clock last night, Mr. Ketchum at the wheel, when a big Chandler touring car bearing the license number 517-017 approached and drove them into the ditch.

Five masked men then relieved the men of their valuables, and were about to start on the young ladies, when an approaching car put them to flight. Chase was given, but the bandits made good their escape in the direction of Santa Monica.

It was later learned that the Chandler of the above license was a stolen car.

OPERATE ON JUDGE

Police Judge F. H. Lowe was operated upon for appendicitis shortly before noon today at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, where surgeons report success. Judge Lowe took sick Sunday night. Justice of the Peace Harry Chase is sitting in his stead at the city hall.

Summary Shows What's Happening in Germany Today

A virtual state of civil war prevails in Germany today with the federal forces engaged against communists under secessionists.

From twenty to thirty persons were reported killed in clashes and more than 100 wounded.

Reds seized the great port of Hamburg during a battle in which twenty were killed and forty wounded. Later in the day they were ejected by loyal police.

Rhineland secessionists seized many more cities, including Bonn, Wiesbaden, Hamborn and Duisburg. The separatist movement swept through the Ruhr like wildfire.

The secessionists who seized Aachen (Aix-la-Chapelle) on Sunday, making original proclamation of a Rhineland republic, have been ejected by German police.

The French troops are still maintaining neutrality, although they were accused of disarming the police at Bonn. This was denied in Paris.

Andre Tardieu, famous French statesman, writing in the Echo National at Paris, admitted it was France's aim to detach the Rhineland from the German state.

Turbulence throughout Germany increased hourly. The chief fear now is that Bavarians will invade Saxony and attack the loyal reichswehr.

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's evidence from this locality doubly proven.

John W. Mason, 1009 East 4th street, Pomona, Calif., says: "I do a great deal of hard work and no doubt it weakened my kidneys and brought on attacks of backache. At times I could hardly get up or down because of the severe pains in the small of my back. I had to get up often during the night to pass the kidney secretions which contained a brick-dust-like sediment. I always used Doan's Kidney Pills at these times and they soon relieved the pain and regulated my kidneys and I felt better in every way."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mr. Mason added: "Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to straighten me up when I have had any sign of kidney disorder."

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

Wally Van scores a distinct hit in "The Drivin' Fool," a Hodkinson picture, now showing at the Glendale theatre. It is a six-reel auto comedy of speed and spunk, marking Wally's return to the films after a five years' absence.

He plays the role of a speed-crazy son who craves the notoriety of the front pages for the rehearsal of his escapades. Finally, the opportunity de luxe presents itself. To save dad from financial ruin he makes a wild dash from coast to coast in six days, arriving just at the psychological moment with the necessary collateral to straighten things out.

A thrilling romance between Wally and the daughter of his father's business partner, played by Patsy Ruth Miller, greatly enlivens "The Drivin' Fool."

THE GATEWAY

"Merry-Go-Round" shows at the Gateway theatre for the last times today. Filmed at Universay City, with the most lavish expenditure of resources, the picture has been adjudged by critics as one of the year's best.

Incidentally, it whirls a new star into the celluloid heavens, Mary Philbin, runner-up in a national beauty contest, who has been training on Carl Laemmle's lot for the past two years. Such a charming and accomplished player is a distinct addition to the talents of the American cinema.

The story of "Merry-Go-Round" whirls about gay Vienna of prewar days, with a few hundred feet at the end in the sombre tones of the aftermath. The romance is furnished by the love of a count (Norman Kerry) for a little organ girl (Mary Philbin) at one of the amusement parks.

Royle, of the Glendale police, and two victims of alleged "bunko artists" went to Los Angeles this morning to confer with the district attorney's office relative to the charge that is to be brought against John B. Mitchell of San Francisco and D. Gordon E. Revley, who were arrested Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Mary T. Arfwedson, 434 West Harvard street, by Mr. Royle and Police Chief Fraser.

Mrs. Olive A. Stowe, 452 Pioneer drive, charges that the two men took $350 of her money, together with some oil stocks, for which she was promised bonds of the Southern California Edison company. A similar transaction was in progress yesterday morning at the Arfwedson home when Fraser and Royle, with W. W. Rainey of Los Angeles, representing the oil company whose stock was being taken, along with cash, for promised Edison bonds, emerged from an adjoining room where they had been secreted. The alleged "bunko" men are said to have "turned red."

Bear Steals Meat in Spite of Steel Trap

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 23.—A big bear which straddles steel traps and knocks quarters of beef from the limbs of trees in order to indulge its appetite, is being hunted by residents of Milo section.

George Wray killed a beef last week and hung the carcass in four quarters on a tree, as is the mountain custom. The next morning the farmer found one quarter eaten and the other pieces clawed to the ground.

A big steel-jawed trap then was placed in position and other quarters of beef hung directly over it. When Wray arrived the next morning he found that the beast had straddled the trap with his hind legs and used his forelegs to pull down the beef.

Lloyd George Honors Harding at Marion

MARION, Ohio, Oct. 23.—"I came to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of one who in public life became beloved to the people of this country and the world," David Lloyd George, former premier of Great Britain, said from the rear platform of his train today as the special pulled out for Cleveland after a brief stop here.

It was his only public utterance in Marion. After breakfasting on his train, Lloyd George visited Marion cemetery, where he left a wreath on the tomb of the late President Harding. He then drove to White Oaks farm, where he visited Mrs. Harding for a few minutes.

GOVERNOR URGES WAR ON WHISKY

Pussyfooting Officials Are Scored for Failure to Enforce Dry Law

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23.—Governor Richardson was today on record as demanding that all public officials make war on "bootleggers and their criminal associates" in California.

The governor's statement, which declared that "violation of the Eighteenth amendment in a few cities in the state has been open and notorious," follows:

Support Constitution

"The constitution is the foundation of our government and should have the support of every citizen. I urge every public official in California to lend his aid in enforcing the constitution. The violation of the eighteenth amendment in a few cities of the state has been open and notorious. Every effort should be exerted by peace officers and judicial officials of California to enforce the law.

"The bootleggers and their criminal associates must be stopped from plying their nefarious trade. In the majority of the cities and counties of the state the law is enforced, but there are still many wet spots in California. This condition should be corrected. I ask every state officer and employe to lend his aid to the officers in suppressing this illegal traffic.

Wipe Out Bootleggers

"California should prove to the nation that it respects the constitution and every citizen should help wipe out these traitorous dealers in the liquor. Places where liquor is illegally dispensed should be closed under abatement proceedings.

"I am making this statement in order to assist in sustaining the constitution and because I believe every public official in the land from the president to the smallest official should go on record on this vital question. Those pussyfooting public officials who have so long dodged the liquor issue should go on record without equivocation or evasion."

Would Change Dates on Open Deer Season

STOCKTON, Oct. 23.—Rearrangement of the open season for deer in changing the time to the month of November was urged strongly today by Paul G. Redington, district forester of the United States forest service, who has just returned from a visit to burned vistas in the mountains.

"The national forests of California cover 10,000,000 acres, almost one-quarter of the total land area of the state," said Redington. Hunters seek inaccesible places to hunt the deer and a certain proportion are careless with matches and are responsible for many fires. By postponing the open season until November this danger would be greatly lessened."

Sales Tax Payments Are Due October 31

Warning was issued yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell to thousands of sales tax payers in southern California, that their returns and payments of tax for September must be in his office or in the hands of his deputies in branch offices on or before October 31, to avoid penalties of 25 per cent and 5 per cent, and a specific penalty of $1000. This class of taxpayers includes manufacturers of automobiles and parts and accessories, candy, and all other persons manufacturing taxable articles; theatres, country clubs, jewelers, manufacturers of syrups, soft drinks and carbonic acid gas, ticket brokers and telephone and telegraph companies.

Collector Goodcell called attention to the necessity of the return and payment being in his hands before the close of business on October 31. Merely placing the remittance in the mails on or before the last day of the month will not prevent penalties.

Charges against the officers were filed following stories told by the two girls that they had been taken on numerous "petting parties" and that in some instances they had been given liquor.

Oil Well Fire Near Placentia Reported

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Lighting up the skies for miles around More No. 1 oil well in the Placentia oil fields, about two miles north of Placentia and near the town of Atwood, exploded and caught fire early today.

Immediately after the explosion, which was reported to have been caused by a combustion resulting from gas pressure, flames enveloped and destroyed the derrick. Houses within a radius of several miles of the explosion are said to have been shaken as if by an earthquake.

The well came in as a 3,000 barrel a day producer co-incident with the explosion and fire, it was reported.

Dilated Eye Is Glass, Drunk Charge Fails

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A London police surgeon, Dr. McKeag, has just testified that a man was drunk on the ground that "his eye was dilated."

But it never occurred to him that the eye might be a glass one.

In point of fact, it was. Accordingly, Police Magistrate Lankester refused to accept the doctor's opinion that one Stanley Watson was drunk while driving an automobile, and what looked a black case turned out to be an acquittal.

Ohio Woods Produce Plenty of Bananas

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio, Oct. 23.—Yes, the Ohio valley's got its own particlar bananas this year—pawpaw hnters are 2uccucuu.ccm "in bigger and better quantities than ever," In other words, recent frosts put the pawpaw crop in condition for eating. Hundreds of pawpaw hunters are combing the hillsides for the wild fruit—which is known as "the Ohio Valley banana." Many rains have rendered the fruit exceedingly delicious.

DEPOSIT SAVINGS IN FAMILY CLOCK

Coin Inserted During Month Disgorged by Timepiece; Economy Encouraged

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 23.—A family clock which demands at least five cents as its daily working wage has made its debut in West Palm Beach. It will not wind unless coins in denominations of 5, 10 or 25 cents are deposited.

But this new timepiece is not so cruel after all, as it might seem. At the end of each month its coin-box can be unlocked, and the money deposited there during the month will be returned, with gratifying silence. Thus it serves a double purpose—as a time-keeper and as a money-saver.

This coin clock is sold by a local bank. "Economical saving as regular as a clock," is the slogan the financial institution has adopted.

A. H. Wagg, president of the bank, vouches for the fact that the clock keeps perfect time as long as it is fed the daily coin. "Rewinding means saving of at least one coin," he says. "Thus the pocket change so often wasted will build a substantial savings account when used to wind the clock."

The instrument has an open face, plain, while the other material is steel. It will hold approximately $25, but there is a place for depositing bills, so that it will take care of as much money as desired.

FRACTIOUS WATER HARD TO MANAGE

Interior Department Seeks Safer Equipment for Controlling Floods

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Checking a herd of stampeding cattle is "child's play" compared with controlling water on a rampage, according to the Department of the Interior. This is one of the greatest problems government irrigation engineers have to contend with in releasing waters from storage dams in the west for irrigation projects.

Frequently waters thus released, the department states, become unmanageable and do much damage to property. The water often attains a velocity twice the speed of an ordinary freight train.

Government engineers are constantly experimenting with safety valves in order to make the releasing of water safe and conservative and not endanger the lives or property of people beneath the dams.

Lou Bogash Outspeeds Harry Greb in Bout

NEWARK, Oct. 23.—In a bout teeming with action, Harry Greb, middle-weight champion, was outspeeded by Lou Bogash, of Bridgeport, Conn., the consensus of opinion being that Bogash carried six rounds to Greb's five, one being even.

Those credited to the Bridgeport entry, were the third, fifth, eighth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth, his rally in the last few rounds bringing him the verdict over Breb who had all the better of the honors in the first, second, sixth, seventh and ninth rounds.

Because no decisions are permitted in New Jersey and the fact that both men were over the middleweight limit, Greb weighing 166 pounds and Bogash 163, honor and not the title went with the latter's victory.

The bout was a rough one from the outset.

Glendale Choral Club Rehearsing Mondays

Glendale Choral club rehearsal last evening was the most interesting and enthusiastic one that has been conducted. J. Arthur Meyers, the director, was especially pleased with the type of musical talent that is being drawn to the organization. Part of the evening was given to singing some lighter choral numbers and then the turn to Coleridge Taylor's Hiawatha Wedding Feast.

Mrs. Alex. Mitchell, the president of the organization extends an invitation to any experienced musicians in Glendale to become members of this Community organization and the next rehearsal will be Monday of next week starting at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the high school.

Irish wolfhound, theoretically, is the oldest breed of dogs in Great Britain, although in practice the modern hound is a recent revival of an almost extinct species.

Mrs. Kaeding came south with Mrs. F. C. Bishop of Massachusetts, president of the National Women's Auxiliary.

It was only this morning that Mrs. Kaeding received news of Clarence Edwards' tragic death, and she expresses heartfelt sympathy for his mother.

Legionnaires to Stage Big Masquerade Dance

Ichabod Crane is going to step down from the dusty shelves of fiction Saturday night to head festivities at the big masquerade ball to be given by the Glendale American Legion post in the Legion hall on East Broadway.

It is to be a masquerade and Ichabod Crane and his "Sleepy Hollow Orchestra" are to bring history up to the modern day with live jazz music for the dancing.

Roy Fortier is heading the dance committee, assisted by Lou Ganger. They announce that masking is not obligatory and urge all Legionnaires to make a point to be present and take part in the revelry.

Sciot Circus Tonight! Clowns! Animals! Vaudeville! Lots of Fun!

SCIOTS WELCOME CIRCUS PATRONS

Clowns and Animals, Popcorn and Peanuts, on Tap Under Big Tent

Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, welcomes Glendale tonight and every night this week to the Big Tent on North Brand boulevard between Milford and Doran streets, where Carl Horney's circus, supplemented with many and varied local concessions, will furnish entertainment galore.

Down in the far end of the tent, on a semi-circular platform, the Sciots' Band, fifty-two pieces strong, will blare forth superior strains of harmony, under the direction of Frank Witherell. This is the band that G. O. Russell organized less than two months ago. It is one of the sensational successes of Glendale.

The one-ring circus, offering a dozen variegated acts, from trapeze to animal stunts, including the antics of twenty clowns, is next in line from the band-stand. Here the popcorn munchers and peanut crunchers will congregate in ecstatic groups—and don't think for a minute they'll all be youngsters, either! The "young idea" has no monopoly on the thrills of the Big Tent.

Contest for Crown

And those pretty girls! Misses Margaret Longley, Gladys Kattleman, Olive Middleton and Corinne Orff, Sciot nominees for the queen contest, will be very much on hand, winning votes with smiles.

"And don't forget that Gardner touring car that will be given away free to the lucky one on Saturday night," says H. M. Bennett, toparch of the local Pyramid and in charge of the circus.

The American Legion has one of the concessions. Another is held down by the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Mark's Episcopal church, in farmerette costumes. Another—but no! One must not tell everything. Many, indeed, are the delightful surprises that await Glendalians at the Sciots' Circus. "I'm going every night," is their motto and it could well be the motto of Glendalians in general.

Fire Fund Benefit

Particularly on Saturday afternoon, October 27, are the people urged to attend, when starting at 2:30 o'clock a special fire fund benefit performance will be given, with eight Orpheum and Pantages acts, in addition to the dozen circus numbers. The funds taken in at this performance will go toward the sum being collected for the families of the victims of the recent fire, states Toparch Bennett.

Following is the complete list of officers in Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots:

H. M. Bennett, toparch.
Arthur H. Dibbern, past toparch.
Dr. Warren Z. Newton, Moib.
Frederick A. Collins, Armeses.

MUSICAL SCIOTS ORGANIZE BAND

G. O. Russell Picks Talent; Many Outsiders Join Pyramid Players

The Sciots' band, organized by G. O. Russell less than two months ago, now numbers fifty-two pieces and is proving a big asset in the upbuilding of Glendale.

At the time of organization, one-third of the present membership was found in this city, states Mr. Russell, manager. The other two-thirds were gathered from the outside by an aggressive advertising campaign and have become residents of Glendale, thus adding materially to the growth of the city.

The band is thoroughly experienced, every member having had years of experience. This experience in the case of J. J. Burke and E. S. Maxwell totals forty-two years, and in the case of E. W. Kingsley thirty-eight years.

"We have paid particular heed to instrumentation in organizing this band," states Mr. Russell. "Lots of bands with individual players of real ability fail to synchronize their efforts into a melodious whole. We have gone out after harmony in the Sciots' band, and we believe we have it."

H. M. Bennett, toparch of local Pyramid No. 39 of the Sciots' organization, highly commends Mr. Russell's work in organizing this highly successful band.

"We have already received a number of letters of appreciation, following the part taken by this band at the funeral of Clarence Edwards Wednesday afternoon, October 18. This is just one indication of the good a band can accomplish in a community."

Following is the personnel of the Sciots' band:

G. O. Russell, manager.
E. W. Kingsley, assistant manager.
C. T. Palladine, assistant manager.
Frank Witherell, director.
J. J. Burke, assistant director.

Trombones—L. H. Hubbard, S. Francis, R. Webster, G. D. Evans, C. C. Bell, W. B. Worden, W. H. Fletcher, W. S. Murphy.

VAUDEVILLE ALSO CIRCUS FEATURE

Eight Special Acts Are in Addition to Regular Circus Program

As a special feature of the Sciots' Circus, there will be a fire fund benefit under the big tent Saturday afternoon, October 27, starting at 230 o'clock, announces H. M. Bennett, toparch of Pyramid No. 39.

In addition to the twelve regular circus acts on the program, there will be eight special vaudeville numbers, all the very best talent right from the Orpheum and Pantage circuits.

The circus acts will include acrobatic, trapese, juggling and animal performances, with twenty clowns as a special feature. This is the same Carl Horney's circus that recently entertained the Sciots in San Francisco, Mr. Bennett states.

There will also be a number of concessions, and pink lemonade and popcorn will flourish as usual, while ice cream cones and other delicacies intimately associated with circuses, carnivals and the like will be present in abundance, to inveigle childish and grown-up appetites alike.

Thursday, October 25, has been set aside at the Sciots' Circus as American Legion night, announces H. M. Bennett, toparch of Pyramid No. 39, in charge of affairs at the big tent.

On that night, one-half of the proceeds from sale of tickets will go into the Legion fund. As the Legionnaires also have one of the chief concessions at the circus, they can be counted on to make a good showing.

RALPH E. MURDY

H. B. THOMPSON

Here are pictures of well known residents who are prominent in officialdom of Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots. These men are taking a prominent part in the big circus which opens tonight. The local organization is among the strongest in the state. All photographs on this page were made by Ralph W. Browne.

ARTHUR H. DIBBERN

A strict ban is placed by the Sciots upon the introduction into the organization of politics or sectarianism of any nature, the objects being purely in the interest of the individual, and the Mason's duty to the individual as well as to his order as a whole is emphasized; to draw Masons together into a strong bond of friendship, fellowship and cooperation.

THE SCIOT CREED

Your neighbor's assistance and co-operation in your business affairs; the strong grip of a friend to help you over the rough places in life; a kind word spoken in your behalf or defense; a watchful care over you in your journey through life, and a full measure of innocent, wholesome amusement, is worth many times more to you while living than the most beautiful requiem, the most unctuous sermon, or the most elaborate pyramid over your remains when you are dead.

This creed briefly explains the objects of the Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots. "B. O. A.," boost one another, is the slogan of this branch of Masonry. The order is charitable to a considerable extent and attempts to put into practical use the teachings of the Masonic lodge. Employment bureaus and relief committees are maintained.

PRETTY GIRLS IN QUEEN CONTEST

Choice Will Be Announced Last Night of Circus; Free Automobile

One feature of the Sciots' Circus that is certain to bid high for favor is the popularity contest. The Sciots' committee has nominated four beautiful Glendale girls to run in the contest, reports H. M. Bennett, Sciot toparch, in charge of the circus plans. These girls are: Miss Margaret Longley, Miss Gladys Kattleman, Miss Olive Middleton and Miss Corinne Orff.

Votes will be sold at a nominal charge and deposited in special ballot boxes arranged for the purpose. These ballot boxes will be opened 10 o'clock sharp Saturday night, October 27, the last night of the circus, and counted by a special committee. The winner will then be announced and crowned Queen of the Circus.

Every person attending the Sciots' Circus on North Brand boulevard between Milford and Doran streets, this week, will receive for his admission price a ticket entitling him to a chance on a brand new Gardner touring car that will be given away at the end of the circus.

"This makes an unusually fine opportunity to get rid of that old bus and acquire a nice bright gothere car," says Toparch H. M. Bennett, in charge of the circus.

The firm of Gilhuly & Russell, realtors, 212 South Brand boulevard, is 100 per cent Sciot. S. S. Gilhuly and G. O. Russell, partners in the firm, are both members. O. H. Russell, father of G. O., is also a Sciot. And they have just taken with them C. L. Peck, late of the Frank Meline organization, Los Angeles, a Sciot as well.

GROWTH OF SCIOT ORDER IS RAPID

Remarkable Progress Made Throughout California With Pyramids

Organized June 6 of this year, Glendale Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, has had a phenomenal growth, now having a membership of 275.

Every master Mason in good standing in San Fernando valley is eligible to membership in the local pyramid and an active campaign looking to the enrollment of every Mason in the valley has been in progress since the lodge was instituted.

A gorgeous ceremonial was staged September 7, during which about 100 new members were initiated. That was an occasion long to be remembered by the fraternity. Eminent toparches, mobibs, armeseses, pastopharis, scribes, chancellors and other high officers were here from the big cities to participate.

Prior to the ceremonial several aggressive teams conducted an intensive membership drive, with the result that an army of recruits were initiated.

Born in Bay City

Authorities differ as to the actual date of the inception of the Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, which had its birth in San Francisco. One well informed Mason, of which lodge the Sciots is a branch, says it was first known as the Boosters' club. This club, he says, was practically abandoned at the time of the big fire and was not really started in earnest until about twelve years ago.

At first the order flourished in the northern part of the state, but at the present time it is having its greatest growth in Southern California. All the pyramids of the Sciots, with the exception of one at Reno, Nevada, are confined to California, although considerable interest is developing throughout the country.

The order of Sciots was born as a result of Masons leaving the convention hall during ritualistic work and congregating in other parts of the building. A high officer of the lodge, noting a large crowd of Masons assembled, jokingly inquired why they did not organize them a lodge of their own. The idea instantly took root.

Although virtually confined to California, the new order has had a remarkable growth. There are now reported to be forty-two pyramids, with a total membership in excess of 23,000.

The Sciot order is to the master Mason what the Shriners is to the thirty-third degree Mason. A Sciot has been defined as a cross between a Shriner and a Rotarian.

Bids for House to Be Received by Board

Bids will be received by the Glendale board of education at a meeting this (Tuesday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock, for the house and garage at 407 West Milford, and for the store building south of the Pacific avenue school.

Among other matters to be taken up will be consideration of a report by Superintendent R. D. White, suggesting rules governing the use of school auditoriums.

CIRCUS TO OPEN IN RIOT OF FUN

Ticket Sale Presages Big Attendance at Great Show First Night

With the Big Tent now up, on North Brand boulevard between Milford and Doran streets, and every detail of the arrangements complete, the Sciots' Circus opens tonight in a riot of merriment and a whirl of entertainment features, reports Toparch H. M. Bennett, chairman of the committee in charge.

Activity is running rife, tickets are selling at a lively rate, and up and down the valley, nothing is being heard but Sciots' Circus, circus, circus!

"This energetic, lively organization is going to give the people of Glendale and vicinity the show of their lives, for the balance of this week," says Mr. Bennett. "A home organization and the profits to stay at home, is our motto.

"We had two purposes in organizing this circus: First, to answer by raising the necessary funds some of the many calls for charity we constantly get, and, second, to finance uniforms for our fine Sciots' band, organized and managed by Brother G. O. Russell.

"The Sciots are going to outfit their wonderful concert band with real uniforms and send their music-makers to the Sciots' state convention at San Diego November 15. All the balance of profits will be used for public charitable purposes. Such a worthy proposition is surely deserving of the support of Glendale's citizens.

"When the old calliope comes wheezing down Brand boulevard, drawn by several beautiful ponies, and the ballyhoo artists begin to shout, Glendale will wake up to the fact that the circus has started and the pink lemonade and peanuts are awaiting customers.

"Real live animals and real clowns will fill up a program of enjoyment for old and young. Grandpap will forget he is old and rheumatic, will throw away his cane and hop down to the tent to have the time of his life.

"No circus is complete without a wild man, and one of these famous Barnum characters, picked up from the shores of the wild island of Catalina, will be imported at great expense. Fed on raw meet and raised under the special instructions of the Sciots' committee, he is going to be the wildest wild man ever trained for this stunt.

"The Sciots' band will be on the streets tonight and many Sciots will be present to let our citizens know what it is all about.

"Balloons will be given away to children tonight, as a circus is a child's paradise.

"Everybody come out and hear the Sciots' band. This band is going to be a real asset to Glendale and a matter of civic pride.

"Don't forget to bring the children down to get a real gas balloon. They are free to the kiddies from Glendale Pyramid No. 39 of Sciots.

"The Sciots now have 280 members, comprising many of the leading business and professional men of the city. They are all working overtime on various committees, that the greatest of success may be assured."

Ocean Boils in Spot Near Fiji Islands

SUVA, Fiji, Oct. 23.—A boiling patch of ocean is one of the recent freaks of the sea seen here.

Dense columns of steam, 90 to 100 feet high, were recently seen rising from the sea off Nukulofoa. Previously there had been in the vicinity a pale-green patch of ocean. The water appeared in a state of ebullition, boiling up two feet high, and the steam was visible twenty miles away. An earthquake had occurred at Nukulofoa on the day previous.

MADNESS RESULT OF MODERN LIFE

Present Day Civilization Is Blamed for Increase in Insanity Cases

MASSILON, Ohio, Oct. 23.—Civilization is "literally driving people mad."

Dodging street cars, sidestepping automobiles and eating rich foods are modern contributors to an increasing percentage of insanity, Dr. A. G. Hyde, for ten years superintendent of Massillon State Hospital, told International News Service.

Infected teeth often cause insanity, he said, and bad teeth—due to eating rich foods—are more prevalent today than ever before. For that reason a dental clinic is maintained at the hospital. As soon as a patient is admitted his teeth are examined, and suspicious molars and bicuspids are extracted.

Tonsils are next examined. Bad tonsils cause insanity in many cases, Dr. Hyde said, and in all cases where the tonsils are found to be diseased they are removed.

More men go insane than women, but men are more easily cured, Dr. Hyde said. Women patients cause more trouble than male patients.

More Males Insane

The proportion of male to female insane is now about three to two, he estimated.

Keeping the patients cheerful is one of the big things in treatment of the mentally diseased, he said, and for this reason plenty of wholesome entertainment is provided.

Contrary to general impression, Dr. Hyde declared that straitjackets were not used.

"I have never seen a straitjacket in use in an asylum in my life," he added. "Certainly we never use one here. We do not resort to solitary confinement either. When a patient becomes violent we give him a shower bath. That usually quiets him."

WOOER, 61, UPSETS 'SHEIK' CONCEPTS

Weds Girl of 18, Who Told Parents She Was at Boarding School

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Oct. 23.—James T. Sims, 61, made a fool of the popular notion that a sheik is a young fellow with shiny hair when he eloped with Miss Emily Hoyt, 18, and married her.

The girl had been receiving attentions from her grandfatherly admirer for months, but her family suspected no love between them. Just before their elopement Mrs. Sims told her parents she was going this autumn to a girls' school in Virginia, so they suspected no plans for marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims intend to live in Des Moines.

Movies to Picturize Skyscrapers' Growth

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Those who never have seen skyscrapers grow in twenty minutes will have their opportunity in December.

In that month a film now being taken of each stage of the development of Chicago's new thirty-two story, $15,000,000 office building—the Straus building—will be released.

Taking the picture is tedious work. The camera man pays a visit at fixed intervals and registers the most recent work done. It will be months before his task is complete.

When the picture is projected it will take just twenty minutes to pile thirty-two stores one atop the other.

The film later will be used to instruct students of engineering in various schools about the country.

Constantinople Cops to Spruce Up Style

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 23.—This city, as befitting the chief city of the Moslem Empire, is to have a smarter police force, according to a new order issued by the director of police.

In a circular to policemen he orders them to shave a minimum of twice weekly and not to wear their police caps at the "fashionable angle."

For correct deportment policemen going on duty will be reviewed by the local superintendent. Policemen while in the streets must preserve a serious demeanor, inspiring respect, he adds.

Lucky Pair Win Car, Baby Prize and Medal

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 23.—Lady Luck visited the Penzer family at New Westminister with a rush. While John Penzer, automobile salesman and garage proprietor, was winning the gold medal in an open competition at nearby links, Mrs. Penzer, visiting New Westminster fair, was holding in her arms before an admiring crowd their grandson, John Naylor Penzer, who won first pr

WASTE CHARGED IN VETS' BUREAU

Senate Committee Uncovers Trail of Extravagance in Probe, Is Claim

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A trail of waste, extravagance and inefficiency marred the care given America's disabled soldiers by the United States veterans' bureau during the year 1922, according to evidence submitted today to a special senate investigating committee.

The senatorial investigation was resumed with the director, Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, testifying to acts of alleged waste and mismanagement, under the rule of his predecessor, Colonel Forbes. Both Hines and Major General O. F. O'Ryan, special investigator, have hinted at "sensational evidence" later.

Dramatic Touch

A touch of drama was given the session today by the presence of Forbes, a decidedly sick man, who is unable to walk without a cane. The former director, against whose management most of the testimony is directed, was waiting to "tell his side of the story." He, too, has promised a sensation when he takes the witness stand. His defense will include the publication of a dozen letters written him by the late President Harding and which are said to endorse his administration of the veterans' bureau.

Although Forbes is practically "on trial," the committee ruled he could not interrogate witnesses, but would have to take the stand in his own defense. Friends of the former director, as a result, are charging he is to be made the "goat" of the investigation.

Extravagance Shown

Under examination by O'Ryan, Dr. Hines today continued to unfold a story of extravagances, and protracted "red tape" in the care of disabled veterans. To date, this evidence revealed specific instances in the use of telephones, telegrams and government transportation by bureau employes. Hines told of reducing long distance telephone charges alone from $500 in January to $25 in August.

Another instance was the purchase by the bureau of "enough polishing oil to last 100 years." This charge, made by Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, was affirmed by Hines. Reed also demanded a report on "over-employment" in the sixth, ninth and thirteenth hospitalization districts, with headquarters in New Orleans, St. Louis and Seattle. In soldiers' hospitals in these three districts, evidence indicated, there are more bureau employes than patients.

Motor Police Salary Dispute Up to Court

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23.—The dispute between State Controller Ray H. Riley and Will E. Marsh, chief of the state motor vehicle department, regarding payment of salaries to traffic officers employed under the new traffic law, has been taken under advisement by the Third district court of appeal.

The state controller refuses to honor the warrants. The court ruling will determine the constitutionality of the new law, which has been the object of widespread attack.

Gay Evening Dresses Will Recall 'Eighties'

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Evening dresses will be gayer than ever this winter, and dress salon exhibitions indicate that they will incorporate in their design more than ever an atmosphere reminiscent of the eighties.

BLOODSHED AND RIOT IN GERMANY

Secessionists and Communists Causing Government to Disintegrate

youngsters from all parts of Germany in the old-time field gray uniforms, officered largely by veterans of the old regime, and moving with all the paraphernalia of war.

The foot soldiers were led by detachments of cavalry while artillery rumbled along between the squadrons. There were mine throwers, howitzers, tanks and machine guns all moving southward for concentration in Saxony, the most densely populated state in Germany.

The "Watch on the Rhine," which was the snappiest and most inspiring of the by-gone days tunes, was tactfully avoided. To play it would have been bitter irony in face of news from the Rhineland.

Reds Seize Hamburg After Hot Battle

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Twenty persons killed and forty wounded when the reds seized the great german port of Hamburg today. Secessionists have seized Duisburg and the town hall at Annaburg, hoisting the Rhenish republican flag. The separatist movement swept through the Ruhr with great rapidity.

Rhineland separatists have seized the great university city of Bonn.

The whole German situation has become more turbulent. Fighting and disorders were reported from numerous districts.

Separatists seized Duisburg, on the northern edge of the Ruhr coal fields, hoisting the Rhenish republican flag over the city hall.

A dispatch from the Rhineland front just before noon said the separatists were holding Duerin, Eschweiler, Erkelenz and Stolberg, but had suffered severe setbacks at Treves and Coblenz.

The communists at Hamburg proclaimed a general strike.

German officials are confident that the Rhenish republic movement is losing headway, despite the speed with which it extended on Monday.

The south German situation is causing anxiety. Following the action of Munich in taking over the seventh division of the Reichswer under the "trusteeship" of the Bavarian government, Minister of Defense Gessler ordered additional reinforcements of Reichswer into Saxony, the red state adjoining Bavaria on the east.

About 50,000 federal troops are being massed in Saxony. The government regards the situation in Saxony as well in hand, but there is some trepidation over the future course of the Bavarian nationalists.

The strike movement throughout central Germany has grown, adding fresh difficulties to the government.

The cabinet is conferring continuously.

Explosive Atmosphere Throughout Saxony

DRESDEN, Oct. 23—Many persons were injured today in a battle between Reichswehr and communists at Prina, a red stronghold in Saxony. The communists attacked the troops, who returned the fire.

Federal infantry and cavalry entered Dresden today without opposition. The city is quiet.

The atmosphere throughout Saxony is explosive. The population is chafing under the iron heel of General von Mueller's federal troops. The Berlin government is being denounced for showing discrimination in favor of monarchist Bavaria.

The social democrat party has suffered irreparable loss and prestige, the Saxons accusing the socialist ministers at Berlin of betraying the working people while yielding to mutinous Bavaria."

to The Glendale Evening News.

Mrs. Johanna Edwards, mother of Clarence Edwards, called The Glendale Evening News office this morning to again express her appreciation of the aid and sympathy being shown by the people of Glendale.

"I certainly appreciate all that is being done by the individuals, clubs and other organizations in Glendale," said Mrs. Edwards.

Tells Of Good Deed

"My boy was my support for seventeen years—he was my all. I also want to specially thank Dr. Edward Swift of 124 South Brand. My son owed him more than $200 for me. Dr. Swift has sent me a receipted bill. He has informed me that I owe him nothing. I did not know there were scuh big hearted people in the world. I thank all Glendale."

The Glendale Evening News is informed that reports are being circulated to the effect that one or two more men were burned to death in the fire. Thorough investigation by the police shows that Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan were the only victims. No other bodies have been found and the reports that others perished and were secretly interred are without foundation, the authorities say.

MOROCCO OFFERS BUSINESS FIELD

British Envoy Says Country Holds Opportunities for Investors

LONDON, Oct. 23.—"Keep an eye on Morocco," is the advice given to British business men by C. G. Hope Gill, British vice-consul at Casablanca.

Morocco, according to Gill, is a golden land of opportunity for venturesome capital. It offers a field for profitable trade and industrial development worthy the attention of business men who seek commercial opportunities in foreign countries.

Country Developing

'Morocco," said Gill, "is a country that is developing. All the country around Casablanca is being brought under cultivation. Agriculture, at present, is the backbone of the country, but it is the phosphates that offer the greatest opportunity for development.

'The phosphate resources of Morocco will last centuries, even if worked at a high rate of prodution. They are richer than those of Florida, and, of course, can be brought more easily and more cheaply to England and the Continent.

"The country is being developed and naturally, therefore, is bound to give opportunities for the judicious use of capital."

Trade Conferences

Gill came to London to advise British firms on the possibilities of trade with Morocco and the opportunities for investment. He declares that, although Morocco is a French protectorate, British capital would be welcomed in that country. Incidentally he declared that the present uncertainty and instability of the franc is hampering commerce in Morocco.

"The principal requirement of Morocco," he said, "are textiles, hardware—such as pans, pads and kettles—candles and soap."

Gill pointed out that labor is cheap, and that the native workmen are capable and dependable. "The Moor," he said, "is an excellent worker on road work and similar tasks. He will work well without supervision."

Resigns Rather Than Work in Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23. — Charges of insubordination have been filed with the state civil service commission against Miss Mary R. McLaughlin, in charge of the Sutro branch of the state library in San Francisco, by Milton J. Ferguson, state librarian, it was announced today.

The charge is based on the claim by Ferguson that he ordered Miss McLaughlin to report for duty in Sacramento on October 1, and that she refused to comply with the order. The state librarian quoted Miss McLaughlin as saying that she did not like Sacramento and would resign rather than be assigned to this city.

STYLUS STAFF IN INITIAL MEETING

Miss Margaret Longley Presides Over Session Considering Work

With Margaret Longley officiating as editor, plans for the 1924 "Stylus," annual publication of the Glendale Union high school, are well under way. A meeting of the staff was held Friday, at which several drawings were submitted by the cartoonist and the staff protographer exhibited a number of photographs of recent school events.

Various phases of the work that will be involved in issuing the next number of "Stylus" were discussed by the staff members. It was decided to delay solicitation of advertising until after the Christmas vacation. Consideration was given to a plan to award prizes for literary contributions.

To Meet Each Week

Announcement of a proposed "Stylus class" met with unanimous approval. While such a class has not been officially created, faculty members are said to favor the move. It is proposed to start the new class the first of February. Five meetings each week are to be held, supervised by Paul F. Webb, faculty member. "Stylus" staff members express the belief that such a class will aid them greatly in the work of the next publication. All the members who can arrange to do so will attend, while some of the junior class, which will be responsible for the succeeding edition, will also participate.

The "Stylus" class is composed of the following:

Members of Staff

Members of the faculty will serve in the capacity of advisers, as follows:

Chief critic, Paul E. Webb; literary critic, Miss Jennie Freeman; art critic, Miss Jeanette Abel; auditor, J. Rhea Baker.

Strongheart's Master Tells How to Train Animals; Urges Humane Methods Be Used

Lawrence Trimble, who lives in Burbank, close to the Glendale city limits, and is known the world over for his famous movie dog "Strongheart," gives some remarkable inside information as to how animals are trained. Before quoting Mr. Trimble, it should be stated clearly that his methods vary greatly from those of the trainers to whom he has reference.

"I used no cruel methods in training Strongheart," he states. "Rather, I appealed to that splendid dog nature in him, gradually developing his potentialities. Much more can be obtained by patience than by cruelty.

Affection, Not Fear

"I deplore the methods used by certain trainers to gain the effects that audiences marvel at. When Strongheart performs, you can be sure he does so out of affection and not fear.

"There are various ways utilized by heartless trainers for obtaining results. Dogs that turn somersaults usually have two leads put upon them and are thus pulled over repeatedly, until the motion becomes natural. As this is a slow process, many trainers help the dog over with a crack under the jaw with a piece of wood, while others beat the animal on the forelegs with a cane.

Inhuman Methods

Dogs are trained to walk on their legs by cruel trainers, by holding the animal up by a lead, hitting it under the jaw whenever it shows signs of falling forward, until in its desperation the poor dog walks erect.

"Humane societies are now springing up in many communities, for the protection of dogs. Consider, when trainers use steel-lined whips, nailed clubs, spiked collars, pistols, electric motors, red hot irons, forks, goads, drugs and other terrible instruments of torture, something is necessary in order to curb their brutal practices.

Bright Hope for Animals

The American Animal Defense league, Los Angeles, is such an organization. Your Glendale Dog Protective association is another. These humane societies are the bright hope of persecuted dogs. That they are on the increase is a sign that the public conscience is awake to a real evil. Being a dog trainer, I speak naturally of trained dogs, but the principles of canine humanity apply equally to all dogs, man's best and most faithful servants."

There will be a business meeting and reception held by the Glendale Dog Protective association at 8 o'clock tonight, October 23, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Murphy, 117 East Acacia avenue, reports George W. Reeves, president. Refreshments will be served.

Local Council Security Benefit Society Meets

Glendale council, No. 3696, of the Security Benefit Association held its regular meeting Thursday, October 18, at the American Legion hall, with the following officers in the chairs: President, Charles E. Walker; first vice-president, Thomas A. Stout; second vice-president, Edith J. Parker; prelate, Alice Traver; secretary, Agnes L. Walker; financier, Frances M. Robinson; conductor, Alice H. Parker; assistant conductor, Wanda Morrow; guard, George A. Robinson; sentinel, Dean Morrison; trustees, Benjamin J. Cox, Robert Greene and Calvin J. Anglin.

Two candidates were initiated and four more were balloted on. Mrs. H. B. Mayer, district manager, says the outlook for an increase in membership during the next month is very encouraging.

Coffee and sandwiches were served by the sisters and a good time was enjoyed by all.

This coming Thursday evening, October 25, a dance will be given, to which the public of Glendale and surrounding towns is cordially invited. Music will be furnished by the Kelly Shrine orchestra.

American Education Week Plans Under Way

General committees to arrange for the observance of American Education week will be announced by Principal George U. Moyse of the Union High school this week. The matter has been under consideration by school officials for several days. While no definite program has been laid out, it is thought probable the schools will follow along the usual lines as adopted in former years. The date of education week is November 19 to 23.

"We're really saving money with Ice"

Friend Husband will very quickly approve the policy of keeping ice in the house all the year around after he once learns the real economy of this plan.

Ice will really pay for itself in the food it saves, and in addition, it keeps your food in a pure, wholesome condition that is not possible without ice.

Scientists will tell you that all perishable food begins to deteriorate rapidly when the thermometer reaches 50 degrees, or warmer, and during the Fall the thermometer is often above 50 degrees.

It's both prudence and economy to keep your refrigerator well filled with ice all the time.

JOHN W. COTTON TO TALK ON ART

American Artists Will Be Given Special Attention of Association

The Glendale Art Association will hold its regular monthy social night Friday, October 26, at the public library, 8 o'clock, when John W. Cotton on the program in the first of a series of talks on "American Art and Artists."

"Mr. Cotton is an artist whose reputation is international," states Mrs. Roy A. Ballagh, president of the club. "As an etcher he ranks with the very best and has also many fine paintings to his credit. He is an esteemed member of the Glendale Art Association and resident of this city."

Timely Subjects

Inasmuch as November is American Art month, the subject chosen by Mr. Cotton is particularly timely. During this month it will be urged upon every American to purchase for the home some worthy work of art, either painting, etching or sculpture.

"The American artists of today are the masters of the future," declares John Noble, well-known European, recently returned to this country after twenty-five years abroad. "The galleries of Europe cannot compare with those in the United States."

Boost Local Artists

"Buy your art at home" is to be the slogan of the Glendale Art Association, in working for the principles back of American Art Month, reports Mrs. Ballagh. The association will hold their November exhibit of local art at the Tuesday Afternoon Club, where thirty-five small canvases will go to the highest bidder.

Glendale Union High school students will hold their November exhibit in the juvenile room of the public library, where the October exhibit of the Glendale Art association is now hung.

Mrs. Ballagh urges P.-T. A. members to stress the need for paintings in the schools as equal to music in value and influence on the lives of the children. "And what more logical than to buy and hang in the schools paintings by local artists, of familiar scenes?" she asks.

Orpheus Club Sings Here on November 1

Glendale commandery of Knights Templar could not have selected a bigger attraction for a benefit program for Thursday night, November 1, in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, than the Orpheus club and "Orpheus Four" of Los Angeles.

Hugo Kirchhofer, director of the Orpheus organization, is a popular leader with Glendale music lovers, and whenever he or his singers appear in Glendale they are greeted with capacity houses.

The proceeds from the concert November 1 will go to carry on the various branches of Masonic work.

Fix Execution Date of Escaped Slayer

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 23.—Roy Walsh, 22, a convicted murderer, will probably be sentenced to death here in the county courthouse at Boulder, but the condemned man will not be present to hear the sentence.

In his place, however, Aaron A. Smith, special deputy, whose duties were to guard against any such contingencies, will be arraigned on a charge of having assisted in the escape of the prisoner. Walsh was to have learned yeesterday the date of his execution for the murder of Albert Johnson, aged Reno, Nev., merchant, on June 26.

Steel Workers Back on New Wage Scale

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 23.—More than 1000 steel workers were operating yesterday at the Minnequa steel works here on a new wage scale. Following negotiations between the management and representatives of the employes, it was announced that a flat 12 per cent increase, retroactive to October 1, had been agreed upon.

Athletic Club Will Stage Another Dance

Following the success of the dance given Saturday night by the Glendale Athletic club, Charles P. Brice, Jr., announces that the club is to give another dance Saturday night, October 27, at the same hall, on North Brand boulevard.

Music for the dancing will be furnished by the popular "Black and Tan" orchestra from Los Angeles.

Oratorio Work Started by Music Club Here

Serious work is to be begun tonight by the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club meeting at 8 o'clock in room 124 at the Glendale Union high school.

John Smallman, director, will be present and work will be started on "Elijah." All members of the music club are eligible for membership in this choral group.

PAY COMPLIMENTS TO GLENDALE HIGH

Alameda Instructors Loud in Praise for Institution of Learning Here

"The Glendale Union High school is an institution where the curriculum is adapted to the needs of the students."

This compliment was paid the local school by Dr. George C. Thompson, principal, and Willis Mineum, vice-principal, of the Alameda High school.

Miss Lucile Hewett, director of psychological research and of educational and vocational guidance, and placement officer for the Alameda school, was a visitor at the Union High school Tuesday. She came to study the methods of the Glendale school, she said, because of the high regard for it entertained by her associates, both of whom have been visitors here, and during a conference with Mrs. George U. Moyse referred to the compliment.

Impressed By Studiousness

Mr. Mineum, who is prominently identified with the dairy business in his community, was particularly impressed by the results of a bacteria count reported by a class during his visit, Miss Hewett said.

Following her conferences with members of the faculty, Miss Hewett was taken out to the new high school building, which she greatly admired. Alameda has just voted bonds to the amount of $750,000 for a new high school, she said. Her school has an enrollment of about 1,300.

MACCABEES TENT TO BE ORGANIZED

Strong Fraternal Order to Enter Glendale Field, Deputy Declares

A tent of the Maccabees order is to be organized in Glendale at once, with the prospect of fifty members as an initial enrollment, according to A. J. Primeaux, manager of the Pasadena district, which embraces most of Southern California.

Mr. Primeaux was in Glendale yesterday afternoon with A. B. Jensen, deputy grand commander of the Pasadena district, looking over the field and making preliminary arrangements.

Mr. Jensen will remain in Glendale until the organization is complete, he states, whereupon the Pasadena degree team will come over and put on the work, joining with the Glendale tent in a banquet and celebration.

Physican Named

Dr. D. A. Baker of 118 West Wilson avenue has been appointed local Maccabee physician and will examine all candidates, it is announced.

Organization of the Glendale tent of this international fraternal and patriotic protective order is part of a general movement to establish new tents in Southern California, states Mr. Jensen.

The Maccabees are known as one of the largest beneficiary orders in the world, with more than 265,000 members in good standing, according to their latest report, and over 4,500 local tents, extending from Maine to California and from the Mexican border up into Canada.

They hold at the present time $18,000,000 in bonds and funds and have paid in benefits during the forty-two years of their existence over $135,000,000.

Seats Now on Sale for 'Cabbage Patch' Play

The evenings of Friday and Saturday, November 2 and 3, have been chosen by the Glendale Community Players to produce that sweetest and most attractive of plays, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." This is an event which stamps Glendale as a truly progressive city in the production of one of the most popular plays ever written at popular prices.

At 35 cents a seat the house must be packed each night—and the house will be packed, for Glendale will turn out in its thousands to view this most attractive of shows. Tickets are now on sale at all drug stores, at the Wolter Realty Company, 203 North Brand, at Glendale Realty Co. 131½ South Brand, and at Cornwell Kelty's, 107 South Brand.

Will Submit Filipino Request to Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Secretary of War Weeks yesterday afternoon announced the receipt of a communication from certain members of the Philippine legislature requesting changes in the administration policies of Governor-General Leonard Wood.

The details of the communication were not revealed, but Weeks said he would refer it to President Cooldige at the first opportunity, probably at the cabinet meeting today.

It is a wise man who knows when to heed others and when to act for himself.

Tujunga Tonsorial Circles Hold Acrimonious Debate Over Wannamaker's Dictum

By F. A. GRAHAM
Of the Evening News Staff

TUJUNGA, Oct. 23.—Is the customer always right? That's a question that the late John Wanamaker, merchant king, is credited with answering in the affirmative.

But there are those who disagree with this view, especially in Tujunga tonsorial circles. One day, not so long ago, the usual gathering of sages and others was missing the cuspidor in Dan Warnick's barber shop.

Dan was there in person, having disposed of two or three dog shows recently by having some of his Collies romp off with the ribbons. Dan only has time for barbering when the bench show season is closed.

"Food Is Too Rich"

Along the firing line sat the energetic young insurance broker, the automobile salesman, transfer man and the deputy constable. One of them had just opined that a man's activities should be curbed when he has accumulated a certain amount of wealth, by gum. "No doubt about it, that Henry Ford feller is gettin' too much money corraled."

At this point the discussion was interrupted by the entrance of a youth whose name we won't mention, although we won't say it isn't Albert. He is of the sidewalk Arab tribe.

Dan flourishes the bib. "Clip 'er high like a house, but don't take any off the top." This from the youth. Out came the clippers. In less time than it takes Zev to turn Pap into a bum, Dan is beginning to round out the nicks with the scissors.

Youth looks in the glass. "Hey, you're getting too far into the crown there. Chop it off short where the clippers stopped."

"But I gotta get the clipper marks out." This from Dan.

"Yes, but if you shorten it on top it stands up like passengers on the 5 o'clock special. Round it off there and your day's work is done."

Might Hurt Business

Dan looks dubious. "That ain't no kind of a haircut. Was you to tell people where you got it, it would hurt my business. I wouldn't have a dog of mine wear his hair that way. Now in barber college—"

"Applesauce—" from the youth —"there's a barber down the street that will take this fourbits if it's going to ruin your business. I'd hate to see a man with a family of dogs go bankrupt. But cut it that way or I'll go away from here and leave you to starve. I wouldn't let you cut it any other way if you cry your eyes out."

Glumly Dan proceeds as directed and in due time the youth departs. Dan raves.

"Now there goes a fine example of bum business. I try to give that swivel neck the benefit of my training and lookit—aw-rf-rf." Words fail him.

Must Please Customer

The insurance man misses the cuspidor again. "Yes, but he had the price you asked and told you what he wanted. He's the man to please."

"No such thing. I know what kind of haircuts to give. Don't the journeyman barbers' handbook say—"

"Yes, but I can't sell automobiles that way," from the salesman. "The constable here may be able to tell a man which jail will fit him best, but I can't sell a Rolls-Ruff customer a Super Seven very often, with all my flowery oratory."

A fly twelve feet away was deluged. The cuspidor remained immaculate.

—Aha! Dan Is Stumped—

"Say, Dan," the constable was about to deliver a gem of thought, "suppose you go into a bake shop and lay down your money for a loaf of white bread and the baker begins to tell you that brown is the only kind you should eat and insists on wrapping up some bran bread, quoting the Bakers' Journal, would you be converted to brown bread? Me, I think the baker would be converting a customer away from himself."

This array of opposition by his erstwhile henchmen bade fair to consume Dan in his own wrath. Jim, the insurance peddler, edged toward the door.

"Let me have five cents' worth of hair tonic, Dan. Here's the money."

"What you want with five cents' worth when it's sellin' for $2 a pint? Thinkin' of takin' a swim?" Dan's temper had reached the limit of elasticity.

"I want it for my watch, there's some dandruff in the hairspring—"

Dan reached for a razor and the meeting was suddenly adjourned, without settling the question—"shall the customer be pleased, no matter what he wants?"

Man Dresses as Woman to Get Into Homes Here

When an individual dressed as a woman appeared at the Bliss home, 119 North Verdugo road, Monday afternoon, to make inquiries regarding real estate matters, Mrs. Bliss thought nothing of the matter until "she" prolonged the conversation beyond what appeared necessary.

Mrs. Bliss and her daughter were alone at the time and, strongly suspecting that their visitor was a man, refused permission to enter the house. The caller became very indignant and departed. The matter is being looked into by the police.

TEMPLARS GREET CHIEF OF ORDER

Grand Commander Boynton Is Guest of Knights at Lodge Reception

The gallant hospitality of knighthood and the inspiring spirit of fraternity were happily combined last night in the banquet at the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard, where Glendale Commandery No. 53, Knights Templar, were hosts at a banquet and reception honoring Albert E. Boynton, right eminent grand commander of the state of California, and his staff.

Joining with Glendale Knights in the honor were members of the Hollywood Commandery No. 56, headed by the commander Right Eminent Sir James Wilson. Adding to the pleasure of the evening was the large company of women guests included in the gathering of over 200.

Meeting informally at 6:30 o'clock the Knights and their guests gathered in the lodge room and from there marched down stairs to the banquet room. Leading the march were Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Boynton, Dr. Roy V. Hogue, commander of the Glendale Commandery, and Mrs. Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, and other grand officers. These were followed by the entire company of Knights and guests.

Halloween Motif

Grinning pumpkins, black cats, and witches on orange background and a profusion of dahlias and chrysanthemums were used in the artistic decoraation of the banquet hall. The lights were shaded with clever orange crepe paper creations and cast a mellow glow over the room.

A splendid menu was served following grace asked by Right Eminent Sir George Bunton of Van Nuys, former grand prelate for the state of Ohio.

After the final course the Knights withdrew to the lodge room for the opening of the meeting in charge of the Hollywood Commandery. Later the guests were admitted and Grand Commander Boynton and his staff were formally presented and received.

Escorting Right Eminent Commander Boynton as members of his staff were Charles Malcom, deputy grand commander; Robert Wankowski, past grand commander; Andrew J. Copp, Jr., grand junior warden; Audrey Park, and Henry G. Krohn, inspectors of department No. 8 of the grand commandery. A detail of Glendale and Hollywood Knights attended them.

The affair in the lodge room was delightfully informal, with Dr. Hogue and Mr. Wilson as masters of ceremonies. Beautiful vocal solos were given by Mrs. Mina Wenzel, accompanied by Mrs. Porter M. Custer, and the clever readings by Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, worthy high priestess of Omar Shrine No. 9, White Shrine of Jerusalem, proved so enjoyable that she was encored four times.

Grand Commander Boynton was introduced by Right Eminent Sir James Wilson, and in response spoke briefly of the principles of knighthood, of the courtesy and entertainment extended by the Glendale commandery, and high-

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

Foods the Child Can and Cannot Have

Breads

Whole wheat bread (at least a day old) should be taken most of the time. For a change, cornbread, brown bread, popovers, zweiback, Swedish health bread, whole wheat crackers, etc. Any firm and crusty bread for the jaws and teeth.

The hot fresh breads are not objectionable because they are hot, but because they are apt to be gummy and they are very apt not to be well masticated. This delays digestion and may cause trouble. Thin, crusty tea biscuits and popovers, etc., are not objectionable.

Ordinary white bread is demineralized and dextrinized, and cannot be called the staff of life for that reason.

Fats

Butter is the best fat on account of its growth vitamin. Not more than one level teaspoonful should be given at each meal up to three years. Thereafter this amount can be gradually increased, but it is best not to exceed a level teaspoonful at a meal.

Vegetable oils in small amount on salads are all right.

Cereals

All kinds are good, but whole grains are much preferred. Oatmeal has the most iron and protein. Dried ready-to-serve cereals may be used for a change. Dried cereals have about one-half the energy or caloric value of cooked cereals. Remember that and serve twice as much of them.

Don't serve too much soft food.

It is best to use no sugar on cereals; or if used, only a very little.

Macaroni, spaghetti and noodles are good foods, rather high in protein.

Condiments

Mustard, pickles, vinegar, pepper, horseradish are best omitted from the diet. Use lemon juice instead of vinegar. It has vitamins and mineral salts and is non-irritating.

Drinks

Milk in all forms. Milk is a food and must be sipped or taken with other foods (best warmed for the younger children).

Weak chocolate or cocoa made with milk; egg-nogs, fruit ades and fruit juices.

Water—but it musn't be taken when food is in the mouth to wash down. This applies to all drinks.

Never tea or coffee, on account of the bromine (the same principle as theine and caffeine—all strong drugs).

Never alcoholic drinks of any kind unless under the physician's orders.

Ice cream sodas are all right occasionally, if pure, if taken slowly and the growth foods are not slighted for them.

Tomorrow—To Be Continued

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

DECIDEDLY THE VOGUE

The pastel shades in the new crepes of soft, petal-like texture are decidedly the vogue for such semi-formal frocks as the one shown here. It is a slip-on, with a deep circular ruffle at the lower edge of the skirt and a two-piece circular collar. The closing is at the left side. If preferred, instead of the circular flounce, the skirt may be trimmed at the lower edge with three accordion-plaited frills. Medium size requires 5¾ yards of 36-inch material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1834. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust, and 16 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

SMART AND FLATTERING

The long, slender, flattering silhouette, accented with a knee-deep plaited flounce, is the vogue of the moment. Canton crepe may be used to carry out this model with deep open neck and long, close-fitting sleeves. The fronts of the dress are crossed and closed at the left side-front. Contrasting silk or self-material may be used for the removable vestee. Medium size requires 4¾ yards of 36-inch satin.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1835. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust, and 16 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

Beauty Chats

By Edna Kent Forbes

ANSWERED LETTERS

Mary B.—At 24 years of age, height five feet three inches, your weight of 117 is all right. The cocoa butter massage will help to fatten the bust. A good exercise for developing the same is to place hands on waist line with fingers forward; while pressing the hands into the waist, move elbows forward and backward. The muscles of the chest, not those of the arms, will be used in this exercise. Deep breathing will also prove helpful.

To break the little girl of biting her nails, have her wear gloves if possible; or paint under the tips of the nails any harmless liquid that will have a strong taste which she dislikes. Bitter aloes is harmless and often used for this purpose. A point also in its favor is that it will not upset the stomach if some of it should be taken through the saliva.

Vanette:—There is a movement among some hair dressers to relegate the bobbed hair style to day wear; for dressy occasions, transformations or other artificial hair arrangements are being designed to meet this situation. Bobbed hair still remains so much in favor among young women, however, that it is not likely to go out of style, either for day or evening wear, for a long time to come.

Mrs. R. K.:—The present day corset is so well cut that it could not be injurious to the health unless it were worn so tight that it caused too much pressure upon some delicate portion of the abdomen.

L. P.:—If you succeed in keeping your hair curled by using the kids, you can hardly improve upon it. To keep your auburn hair from growing darker, use henna when you shampoo.

B. S.:—The method you mention is that of applying heated wax to the hair. When the wax has cooled and hardened it is ripped off carrying the hair with it.

A. B. H.:—A double chin at 17 would suggest overweight; if this is so, eat less of all fattening foods, such as potatoes, white bread, pies, and fatty meats. Massage under the chin, making rotary motions; follow this treatment up with dashes of very cold water to stimulate the circulation which will make the muscles firmer.

Florence J.:—Any effort to reshape the nose through pressure that would come upon the nasal passages could cause trouble later. Pressure upon the fleshy portions of the nose will reduce them somewhat after a long time.

F. W.:—In most cases, after using a depilatory, when the hair grows out again it will be stiff. You see the action is much the same as that of shaving. As the hair grows longer it will lose this tendency. Continue with the peroxide and your arms will scarcely show that you have this hair on them.

Tomorrow — Which Cold Cream?

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Bride—"Can you give me a recipe for Elderberry pie? Someone has told me that these berries make a delicious pie filling. I want it for next year."

Answer—It is a coincidence that a friend has recently sent me this recipe, which I believe is a very rare one:

"Elderberry Pie—Line the pie pan with uncooked pastry, then fill with elderberries; add two tablespoons of good sour cream, enough sugar to sweeten well, a little flour and two teaspoons of ground cinnamon. Put on a top crust, then bake as for any fruit pie." (Note—A heaping tablespoon of flour is about the right amount.)

Mrs. S.—"Can you give me directions for the new crocheted hair net?"

Answer—Since the receipt of your letter I have tried to find these directions but so far have been unsuccessful. Let us hope that some Reader Friend has them and will be kind enough to send them to me, to publish here.

Old Reader—"I wonder if other housekeepers know what to do for poisoning from Poison Oak? Here is an excellent remedy: Add one drachm of calomel to one pint of lime water, shake well, and apply to the skin. If the skin is dry and shows signs of cracking, use cold cream to soften it."

Answer—Every time I receive a letter from a Column Reader that contains a helpful hint of this sort I become more and more deeply convinced that we housekeepers have a sort of fraternity feeling for each other; that we really care whether our sister housekeepers, find life hard or easy. I want to thank you, and all the other women who are continually sending me these little helps to pass along, for your generosity and kindness.

Mrs. R.—"What will remove orange stains from a baby's woolen shirt? I used cloth bibs before I thought of oilcloth ones, and so spotted the shirts."

Answer—Try sponging with alcohol containing a few drops of household ammonia. Old orange stains may have to be rubbed with lard or glycerine and allowed to stand for an hour before being washed out. If the stains are very obstinate, use Javelle water (for sale at any drug store); this is a bleach and it must be followed with a strong ammonia solution as soon as the stain disappears. You see, the alkali in the ammonia neutralizes the acid in the Javelle water, thus preventing it from destroying the fiber of the cloth.

Tomorrow—Using Left-over Egg Whites.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Of late I have been reading in your column of mothers who have trouble making their children, especially girls, obey. I am writing that other mothers may profit by my experience and to ask two questions.

At what age should a girl cease to be spanked by her parents?

Who should whip her, the father or the mother?

I have three daughters whose ages are seven, nine and thirteen years. Up to three years ago I tried to make my children obey by other methods than the stick, but failed. Whenever one of my daughters disobeyed me I tell her to come to my room before retiring. After taking off all her clothes except her essential underwear I lay her across my lap and use the hair brush or cane. I prefer the hair brush because it produces the same effect without leaving a mark.

YOURS FOR BETTER GIRLS.

There is wide disagreement in regard to the punishment of children. So much has to be taken into consideration such as the temperament of the child, the extent of disobedience, the effect other kinds of punishment have had, etc. Some children are too sensitive to be whipped and if that method of punishment is adopted, the spirit of the child is broken. Other children are so wilfull and indifferent to the wishes of their parents that nothing short of whipping seems to help. It is difficult to say at what age whipping should stop. Personally I think every other form of punishment should be tried before such violence is resorted to, and, in case whipping has been found necessary, I think it should be discontinued as soon as some other method, such as cutting the amount of an allowance, or privileges of play, can be substituted. Also it cannot be determined whether the father or the mother should whip. Circumstances entirely govern the matter of punishment. Sometimes one parent is so lenient that the burden of punishing falls entirely on the other. Besides this, both parents are not apt to be together when the punishment is needed, and therefore the responsibility falls on the one who sees the error of the child. Personally I do not believe in carrying tales of misbehavior. It is most unfortunate when a mother threatens her child with the words, "I will tell your father when he gets home." Loyalty between the mother and the child is a great thing and it is preferable for a mother to do her own punishing to betraying the child's misconduct.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a stenographer, twenty-nine years old. There is a man about ten years my senior who comes into the office frequently, is very pleasant to me but does not ask me for a date, which I wish he would do. Would it be proper for me to invite him to spend an evening at my home, or would he ask for my company if he cared for it? I lead a very lonesome life. Another young man wishes me to marry him. I do not love him and do not care for his company, although I have nothing against him.

LONESOME.

It would not be advisable to ask your office acquaintance to your home unless he shows some more definite interest in you than he has as yet done. Let him make the advances. Real love not only lasts but grows stronger and deeper after marriage, though somewhat less demonstrative.

Dear Roy—This is to inform you that I have made a thorough inspection of the illustrations advertising the new fall hats for gentlemen, and I have come to the conclusion that the artists who drew them their pictures believe eyebrows and ears were created first cousins to the hatrack. —J. J.

Marching with American Legion

Lieut.-Gen. Hunter Liggett, who headed the committee in San Francisco for entertainment of the fifth annual convention of the American Legion, has a military record which has won for him a place with Grant, Lee, Jackson, Sheridan and other great soldiers of America. It was the splendid ability for organization shown by his military record that caused the Californians to seek him to head the committee which entertained the 150,000 legionnaires.

General Liggett was in charge of the First American Army in the late war, which was composed of 1,200,000 men and 5,000 guns. This is believed to be the largest army ever to have taken the field. He attacked the Germans with full strength and broke through lines that had existed for three years. Pushing through to Sedan, he cut off retreat of the crown prince's army, thus insuring the signing of the armistice.

To General Liggett was entrusted some of the most important details of the American army's work in France. He was the first United States general to command a full French division, and was highly commended by Marshall Foch for plans laid for a farther advance into Germany, if such a movement became necessary. His activities on the southern face of the St. Mihiel salient, where he directed an advance of eleven and one-fourth miles in twenty hours, and captured a large amount of supplies and prisoners, and in the Argonne attack, where he moved his troops forward at such a speed that the enemy was completely deceived, won him high place as a military tactician. General Liggett executed the "turning" of the 82nd division in the Argonne forest, which swept that section clear of Germans and relieved the so-called "lost battalion." Highest commendation from all allied commanders was received for his service, and subsequent promotion to the rank of lieutenant-general for this master stroke followed. Only one other, Lieutenant-General Bullard, attained this rank during the World War.

In his present capacity as head of the committee of welcome to the legionnaire visitors to San Francisco, General Liggett has gone to his duty with the zeal that characterizes his army service. He has a wide circle of friends in the western city, and because of his splendid organization ability and his rare kindness is regarded as a highly valuable man for this important post.

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will visit Alaska in order that she may be in a position to afford information on possible legislatiton leading to settlement of that territory by veterans of the World War. Dr. Barrett believes that the best way to care for the veteran is to make him a land owner, and hopes to find that Alaska will offer such opportunities for the returned soldier as did northwest Canada, following the Boer war. On her three weeks' trip she will inspect units of the auxiliary in seven cities in Alaska.

It was at the end of the trial resulting in conviction of an oil promoter, who was caught in the net of the postal authorities' investigation of oil frauds recently in Fort Worth, Tex.

The judge asked the defendant if he had anything to say or to request, says Judge.

"Your Honor," said the promoter, "would it be possible to choose or select my place of confinement?"

"What difference would it make?" said the Judge, "you are going to be away for two years anyway."

"I should rather be sent to the Atlanta prison than the one at Leavenworth," responded the promoter, "because the warden at Leavenworth bought 2,000 shares of my stock."

Identification of Criminals to Be Facilitated by Expert's Services

Hereafter those who run foul of the law in this city will be required to leave behind them at police headquarters accurate reproductions of each and every finger of both hands, thumbs included, is the edict of John H. Long, police chief.

The new department has been placed in charge of Kenneth Coryell, who has plunged deep into this phase of criminal identification work. From the small collection of finger prints already in his possession, obtained at the expense of the inmates of the city jail, he hopes to evolve a gallery of these interesting portraits that will help the local police to cooperate with other departments of the Southwest in running down criminals.

Coryell is supplementing his miniature finger-print gallery with perusal of numerous books on the subject, and hopes to become an expert in the matter.

Win-One Elects

The Win-One class of the First Baptist church elected the following officers at their meeting last Thursday night with Ray Short, 624 West Sixth street:

Walter Spark, president; Irene MacPherson, vice-president; Grace Rasmussen, secretary, and Ray Short, treasurer.

Amendments to the constitution were made, stating that only unmarried candidates between the ages of 18 and 25 years be admitted. Plans for an original Hallowe'en party were discussed, and after enjoying delicious refreshments the members took leave of their host with greatly increased enthusiasm for this novel class.

Dr. E. H. Thompson, who recently underwent an operation at the Mayo institute, is reported to be improving rapidly.

Orchardists are warned by the government to be prepared for frost from now on and that heating arrangements be ready for an emergency.

Mrs. J. I. Walters of the Santa Rosa apartments is the owner of the cedar chest and its beautiful contents made by the needlework section of the Women's Club and presented following the recent festival.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It sledom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

Serious Bladder Trouble

"Could not stand nor sit and was forced to cry out from intense pain," writes Henry Williams, Tarkio, Montana. "The doctors said I had inflammation of the bladder and an operation was necessary. Tried Foley Kidney Pills and improved at once. Tell all my friends about Foley Kidney Pills as it will save many from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation." DR. GEORGES DREYER

Dr. George Dreyer, professor of pathology at Oxford university, announced during a recent lecture in an English hospital that he has possibly obtained a cure for tuberculosis. Dreyer, a Dane, will rank with Pasteur as a benefactor of humanity if his findings are verified.

GLENDALE'S TEAM IN ACTION OCT. 28

Meusel Boys, Mayor Robinson, Jack Dempsey Some of Stars on Program

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff

Glendale's new winter league baseball team will break into the sport limelight next Sunday, October 28, with a bang.

The Meusel boys, Bob and 'Irish', heroes of the recent world's series games between the Yankees and the Giants, will be home in Los Angeles this week, and the baseball enthusiasts of that city are assembling an all-star team that will play Glendale, as a sort of a tribute to the Meusel boys.

Bob Meusel is a member of the Giant team, and his brother Emil, better known as 'Irish', worked for Miller Huggins in the Yankee lineup.

Arranged by Kerwin

The game has been arranged by Frank A. Kerwin, president of the Glendale league team, and Mickey O'Brien, catcher of the Philadelphia Nationals, who will be on the receiving end for Glendale on Sunday, when the game is played at Washington Park.

Among the other celebrities at the game will be Mayor Spencer Robinson and most of the Glendale city officials, Chamber of Commerce representatives, and delegations from many organizations, all of whom will be seated in the boxes.

Mayor Robinson will present to the Meusel brothers a golden key, representing the freedom of Glendale, and other special exercises will mark the home-coming of the big league players to their Southern California stamping ground.

Jack Dempsey and a flock of movie stars will also add atmosphere to the game and will attract their share of attention from the populace.

But Glendale will be right out in front, ahead of anyone and everyone else that happens to visit Washington park next Sunday.

Glendale's new park is now under way, with Grant Leischner and Mickey O'Brien in charge of the crew of men unloading lumber on the site on South San Fernando road where the field is to be located.

EAGLE ROCK

TRANSPORTATION PLANS INDORSED

Committee's Stand Backed by Representative Citizens of Eagle Rock

The second round in the battle for better transportation has ended in endorsement of the program outlined by the Affiliated Transportation committee, of which H. H. Maxson is chairman.

The first round gained bus service for Franklin High school students. The third round will be the raising, if necessary, of a special fund for continuing the fight, reports Donnell G. Montgomery, secretary of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce.

It seems to be the unanimous opinion of the Homeland that the time for talking is over and the time for acting has arrived. A committee comprising H. H. Maxson, W. Wheaton and A. G. Reilly held a long conference recently with George J. Kuhrts, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Railway company, as a result of which certain of their demands were impressed very firmly. Following a further conference, relief in one or two particulars may be expected.

Following is a partial list of those endorsing the program of the Affiliated Transportation committee: H. Bruce, representing the Improvement association; Dr. Mary Le Clere, the Business and Professional Women's club; H. R. Collins, Occidental-York Valley Improvement association; J. Willsey, Dahlia Heights P.-T. A.; Mrs. J. C. Reiter, Eagle Rock P.-T. A., and the Women's club, San Rafael P.-T. A. and many other local organizations are back of the movement, which aims to bring transportation facilities of this community up to the standard it deserves by reason of its location and population.

To Give Sedan

Following an enthusiastic meeting of the Holy Name Confraternity held last Monday night at the parochial residence, 2002 East Myrtle avenue, it was decided to dispose of a new 1924 Chevrolet sedan this year, to raise funds for the church, instead of holding the customary bazaar.

Sets of 100 tickets, in sealed envelopes, ranging in price from 1 cent to $1, have been distributed to the captains and their aides for immediate sale.

Tickets may also be secured at the rectory and at the McLean Motor Car company, where the sedan is on display.

"Eagle Rock is Homeland," the new community song, is reported to be going over big. When introduced by Earl Houk, baritone, at the American Legion show last Friday, it met with enthusiastic applause and scores of copies were sold.

Local and Personal

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. M. Hensley, the Arts and Crafts section of the Tuesday Afternoon club is very active this fall. In order to get a clearer idea of what is being done along this line, the following committee visited the arts and crafts display at the Southwest museum one day last week: Mrs. A. C. Tinkham, Mrs. L. M. Maynard, President Mrs. A. G. Deilly of the Women's Twentieth Century club, and Mrs. Hensley. They were particularly charmed with the display of batik work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Goddard of 514 Paloma avenue are back home after a five weeks' automobile outing that took them as far north as Klamath river, near Ashland, Ore. They report the salmon fishing was excellent and that it was an ideal place to camp. En route, they saw the eclipse at Lompoc and viewed the wrecked ships at Honda.

Chinese must pay approximately 20 per cent more than we for American made goods, the extra cost covering freight, insurance, landing charges, customs duties, portage to warehouse in China, storage costs, all retail selling costs there and profit.

Glendale or Eagle Rock Property For a BULB RANCH AT SANTA CRUZ—

Just three miles from the city of Santa Cruz, one mile from the Ocean, and only four-tenths of a mile off the main Santa Cruz-Watsonville Highway, in the HEART OF THE PROVEN BULB DISTRICT.

DID YOU KNOW—
that last year a man sold over $3000 worth of Yellow Calla Bulbs from an eighth of an acre, another party sold $1675 worth of White Calla Lily Bulbs from about one-half acre, another fellow sells better than $4000 each year of Freesia Bulbs from less than an acre, Gladioli Bulbs and Berries, well, the sky is the limit to what one can make.

SANTA CRUZ IS NEXT TO HOLLAND—
in the Bulb Raising Game. In a few years Good Bulb Land will be priced so that it will be practically prohibitive. In another year or so Uncle Sam will not permit the importation of Bulbs from Holland, then, Oh Boy.

THIS BULB RANCH IDEAL—
Climate, Soil, Water, Drainage, Location are positively O. K. Seven Room House, 30 by 40 over all, strictly modern in every way, electrically lighted, stationary tubs, septic tank etc. Two Horse Power Electric Motor that does the pumping trick into a 3000 Gallon Tank. Ninety foot cement driveway into Garage and cement walks where needed around house. Garage is 20 by 30 feet, not a dinky one by any means.

PRINTER'S INK CANNOT DESCRIBE

The present owners of this beauty spot are engaged in business in Santa Cruz and can not give the attention to the ranch that it requires, our other business the only reason for selling, and, oh, yes, by the way two firms are going to begin drilling for OIL within two miles from this ranch.

TODAY—Moffat Tunnel Under Way; To open Vast New Territory.

By MICHAEL F. DACEY,
For International News Service

DENVER, Oct. 22.—With actual work on the construction of the Moffat tunnel under way, the 50-year dream of Colorado for a bore through the granite rocks of the Rocky Mountains bids fair to become a reality within the next four years.

The tunnel, six miles long, will be through the mountains at James Peak, about 50 miles west of Denver, and its completion will result in:

A reduction of 173 miles in the distance between Denver and Salt Lake City.

Elimination of numerous steep grades on the Denver and Salt Lake (Moffat) Railroad.

The opening up of a vast empire on the western slope of Colorado by furnishing this territory with an outlet for its minerals, ores and agricultural products.

And it will put Denver on a trans-continental railroad route, which means, according to scores of industrial and financial leaders in this city, the attainment of the city's slogan—"500,000 population in 1930."

With the formal signing of a contract between the Moffat Tunnel Commission, which has floated a bond issue of $6,700,000 to finance the greatest engineering feat in the Western hemisphere, and the Tinkler-Hitchcock Construction Company of New York and San Francisco, who agree to have the tunnel completed in 46 months, work at the west portal of the tunnel has started and a steam shovel and electric drill are being installed at the east portal.

A "pilot" tunnel that will be later used for carrying water from the western slope of the Rockies into the city of Denver will be constructed first, allowing workmen to operate with equipment at different depths in the mountain to push the large hole, or mail tunnel, through the solid rock of James Peak.

The main tunnel is to be 16 feet in width and 24 feet high.

The "pilot," or water tunnel, will be eight feet high and eight feet wide.

The two tunnels will be approximately 75 feet apart.

According to the Tunnel Commission all railroads will have opportunity to use the tunnel on an equal basis.

Trains will be hauled by electric power.

Construction of the tunnel was made possible when the Colorado legislature enacted a bill authorizing the formation of a "tunnel bonding district," which includes all or portions of the counties through which the Denver and Salt Lake Railroad operates. A tunnel commission was chosen by vote of the district, and, following favorable decision of the legality of the procedure from the Supreme Court of the United States, bids for construction were advertised and the contract signed.

The construction contract is unusual in a number of respects, members of the Moffat Tunnel Commission said. It is known as the profit-sharing plan, under which the economy and rapidity with which the work is completed determines the remuneration to be received by the contractors.

The cost of the tunnel construction was placed at $5,250,000 by the commission, with a fixed fee of $140,000 to the contracting firm. Should the cost of the tunnel be less than this amount, the money saved will be equally divided between the commission and the contractors.

If work is completed in less time than the stipulated 46 months the contractors will receive $1,000 per day bonus for every day under that period. A penalty of $1,000 per day upon the contractors is provided if they fail to complete the project on time.

Engineers who have surveyed the terrain surrounding James Peak have expressed the view that valuable ore may be found by workers on the tunnel. According to W. P. Robinson, chairman of the Moffat Tunnel Commission, any such ores will become the property of the commission.

Already a "mushroom" town has sprung up high in the mountains near the Continental Divide, where several hundred workmen will dig, shovel and bore for the next few years.

The substance of a lie is fictitious.

MODERN SIREN USED TAXICAB

Lured Victims Into Holdup Trap, Charge

Peggy Burke in a Vampire Pose

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—According to Greek mythology, the siren was a jolly flapper who sat on the rocks along the seashore and hummed such enticing ditties that staid old mariners forgot all about their sweethearts in every port, ran their boats on the rocks and didn't care a whoop what happened.

But the modern siren does it differently.

According to Chicago police, Miss Peggy Burke used the new way. Officials say she has told frankly how she used a taxicab instead of the seashore, and a wicked eye instead of a snappy song. Not many mariners fell her way, but landlubbers did.

Miss Burke says that her husband drove the taxi. The idea was for her to lure the victim into the taxi for a nice little ride. In the outskirts of the city she would pull a gun and order both the driver and her companion to "stick up their hands." Both would. And the sad part of it was that the victim wouldn't holler.

One married man has whispered, though. Shamefacedly he has told the police how he fell for Miss Burke's beauty and winsome ways.

Miss Burke says she might still be siren-ing, but for the fact that her husband lit out with the gate receipts without splitting 'em, which made her sore and talkative.

And now there are a dozen or two busy business men who are wondering just how much she has talked. For they don't care a bit about recovering their money.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY POPS SOME CORN

"Jack Frost will be around tonight, I think," said Uncle Wiggily to Nurse Jane one evening, as the bunny rabbit gentleman hopped up the steps of his hollow stump bungalow. "It is getting quite cold."

"Yes, Jack Frost may be here," agreed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I wish you'd help me bring in my pots of flowers. I don't want Jack to pinch them with his cold fingers."

"I'll help," offered Uncle Wiggily. So he carried in the geraniums and other posies and then, after supper, he said: "I think I'll build a fire in the hearth, Nurse Jane. It will be warm and cozy if any of our friends come to call."

"All right," Nurse Jane said.

"There is no danger of Jack Frost coming in where there's a fire," she added, with a laugh. "Jack likes to be cold."

So Uncle Wiggily piled some wood on the andirons and lighted the faggots. Soon a warm, crackling blaze was leaping and jumping up the chimney, as if eager to get outside and see how cold it was.

"The cracking of the fire reminds me of popping corn," said Nurse Jane, after a bit, as she sat near the hearth toasting her toes.

"Ha! Speaking of popping corn, that's what I'm going to do!" cried Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose.

Hanging near the chimney were some ears of popping corn, and on the same nail was the wire popper with its long handle.

"I'll get the salt and melted butter ready," offered Nurse Jane, as Uncle Wiggily began to shell the kernels of corn from the cob, dropping the kernels into the wire popper.

By this time the fire had died down into a mass of red, hot embers, just right for popping corn, and soon Uncle Wiggily was slowly shaking the popper to and fro, the kernels of corn skating around inside beneath the cover. For you must shake the pepper, you know, when popping corn, else it will burn.

The fire glowed redder and hotter. Little cracks and crackles were heard in the shaking popper. And pretty soon there were loud pops like little toy soldiers shooting off little toy guns.

"It's popping fine!" cried Nurse Jane, and soon the popper was filled with the large white kernels, which were much larger than the little dried kernels Uncle Wiggily had shelled off the cobs.

When corn pops it bursts and swells out into white, funny shapes. And just as Uncle Wiggily emptied the first full popper into the dishpan, and while Nurse Jane was pouring the melted butter over it, the door of the hollow stump bungalow opened and in walked—

No, it wasn't any of the bad chaps. It was Uncle Butter, the goat.

"Ha! Welcome to our corn popping party, Uncle Butter!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "You are just in time."

"I'm glad of it," bleated the goat gentleman. "But have you enough corn for me? I am very fond of it."

"If we haven't enough I'll pop more," offered Uncle Wiggily, and when the first popper full was eaten he popped another. Just as it was being poured into the dishpan the door opened and in walked—

No, it wasn't any of the bad chaps. It was Mr. Twistytail, the pig.

"Oh, ho! Glad to see you!" greeted Uncle Wiggily. "Welcome to our corn popping party. Help yourself!" And he pushed the dishpan full of corn to the pig gentleman.

"Are you sure you have had enough?" asked Mr. Twistytail, the pig gentleman. "I am very fond of popped corn."

"If we haven't enough I'll pop more!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. And he was just putting more unpopped kernels of corn into the popper when the door opened and in walked—

Yes, this time it was one of the bad chaps—the Fuzzy Fox.

"Ah, ha!" grumbled the Fox. "Why don't you tell me I am welcome, Uncle Wiggily, as I heard you tell Mr. Twistytail and Uncle Butter while I was hiding outside? Why don't you invite me to have some corn?"

"Why — ye-ye-yes, I will!" stammered Uncle Wiggily. "I can't exactly say you are welcome, but I'd rather you'd eat the corn than nibble my ears. I'll pop some corn 'specially for you."

"All right!" growled the Fox. "First I'll eat the corn and then I'll nibble your ears!"

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose and into the popper he put an extra lot of the little hard kernels.

"When they pop they'll burst the cover off the popper and they'll fly out and maybe burn the Fox on the nose!" whispered Uncle Wiggily to Nurse Jane.

Soon the corn began to pop. And there was so much of it and it filled the popper so full that the cover burst off and a stream of hot white popped kernels of corn shot toward the Fox. The hot corn struck the Fox on his soft and tender nose.

"Ouchie! Wowchie! Zow!" howled the bad chap. And out of the door he ran, not stopping to nibble any ears. And then the others had a good time at the popcorn party.

Now if the rag doll doesn't try to slide down hill on the pin cushion and get splinters in her shoes I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the paper boat.

"GREEK CRISIS HAS LEFT ITALY STRONGER, MORE RESPECTED," SAYS ENVOY

That the Italo-Creek incident has left Italy stronger and in higher esteem among nations is the belief of Prince Celasio Caetani, Italian ambassador to the United States, who has just returned from his country.

PRINCE CAETANI

"The Italo-Greek incident is closed now," he said after his arrival. "The Mussolini government has acted with lightning rapidity and with a firmness that has even caused some astonishment; it has even caused apprehension, because some people thought Italy had cleverly concealed purposes. Others talked of warlike intentions. There was nothing of the kind; events have proved it. Italy has acted in the same way as the United States, France or Italy would have acted under similar circumstances.

"Mussolini has defended our national honor and does not admit any dodging of responsibilities. The occupation of Corfu was not an act of war, but the obtaining of a necessary security. The Italians are going to evacuate Corfu in strict accordance to the declarations made by Mussolini. Italy has come out of this incident stronger and more respected than ever before. All ranks and all parties have stood with Mussolini as one man.

"The Fiume question is still hanging fire, but I am confident it will be settled in a satisfactory manner before long."

QUEEN MARIE OF ROUMANIA

Queen Marie of Roumania is known as the most beautiful and fascinating queen of Europe. She is also called the "queen maker." Two of her daughters now occupy European thrones, the oldest, Elizabeth, being the wife of George IIof Greece and Marie, the second, queen of Jugo-Slovakia, the wife of King Alexander. Rumor has it that the youngest daughter Ileana, now in her teens, is to be betrothed to a prince or king as soon as her age will warrant.

Not content with placing her children on thrones, the queen is now said to be using her charm to effect recognition of Greece by the French and English governments. Not only is her daughter queen of that country, but her son, the crown prince, is married to Princess Helen of Greece, hence her interest.

Before her marriage Queen Marie was Princess Marie Alexander Victoria, daughter of the Duke of Edinburgh, son of the late Queen Victoria of Great Britain. She was eighteen years old at the time of her marriage to the then heir to the Roumanian throne. Her younger son, Prince Nicholas, is being educated at the famous English school of Eton.

The queen is now forty-eight years old. It is said that it was largely her influence that swung Roumania to the side of France and England during the World War. She was an ardent war worker, flinging open the palace to be used as a hospital at the beginning of the conflict and herself helping with the care of the wounded.

Some people think it's a sin to take their own lives, but others get jobs in rodeo shows.

THEM WOMEN BANDITS

Now the headlines in the papers
tell us daily
That the "weaker sex" is learning how to shoot;
And the ugly mug who holds us
up so gaily
May just as well turn out to be a beaut.
From coast to coast the little bullets patter,
And they do not always have the aim so pat,
But they generally pull a line of chatter,
You can always tell the women guns by that.

When a gentleman is held up by a lady
On a lonely country highway, late at night,
And she aims an automatic at his cady
And stops his car and tells him to alight;
When she swings him for his watch and chain and boodle
(And this may happen any night to you),
If he does not want a bullet through his noodle,
Pray, what is any gentleman to do?

For you cannot best a lady even slightly,
And if you strike a woman you're no gent,
You must stand and take your medicine politely
And with a genteel protest be content.

Concrete Hollow Tile Decreases Fire Hazard

Fire tests, which we can cite, prove that concrete is the most fire resistant material for building. When subjected to flames and water our tile, by reason of its density surpasses all other materials.

Be sure you do not confuse "wet mix" poured concrete hollow tile like ours with other hollow tile. Our process is exclusive in this territory.

Ask insurance men about rates on buildings of this material.

This building will resist fire.

P.-T. A. DELEGATES TO ATTEND MEET

Congress of Mothers Holds All-Day Conference in Los Angeles, Oct. 24

Mrs. Dan G. Kevane, president of Monte Vista Parent-Teacher association, will head a delegation to the California Congress of Mothers' conference to be held at Los Angeles October 24, in the First Baptist church, 727 South Flower street.

The meeting will open at 10 a. m. and continue throughout the day until 4 p. m. Subjects to be spoken of will be "Patriotism, Child Labor and Legislation."

Halloween will be celebrated in Sunland by the Parent-Teacher association at a party to be given in the school auditorium Friday evening, November 2. The public is invited and the proceeds will be used for philanthropic work in the district.

Spook Parade

Festivities will start with a parade of the spook variety, starting at the school and proceeding to Monte Vista park and return.

A program has been arranged by the Parent-Teachers to be followed by refreshments. Prizes will be awarded; two for the most appropriate costumes and one for the most comical.

Ask Park Extension

President B. F. Mears of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by Homer Rice, Mr. Marsh and Rudolph Henry, appeared before the county supervisors recently to urge action on the proposed extension of Monte Vista park.

Some improvements have already been secured and the Chamber of Commerce is working to have the park enlarged by the addition of adjoining property.

This park has become so popular that it can no longer accommodate comfortably all the picnickers who go there.

MONTROSE

DOCTOR SECURES LARGER OFFICES

Former La Crescentan Now Resident of Montrose; Practice Grows

Offices have been opened in the Reinhard block, Montrose, by Dr. Lucena E. Turner, formerly of La Crescenta. A necessity for larger quarters in which to install electrical equipment to be used in her practice made the new quarters more desirable.

A Shetland pony will be given to the holder of the winning ticket by the Oakmont Saddle stables. With every $2.50 ticket sold a coupon is given. The ticket entitles the buyer to the regular privileges of horseback riding and also one chance on the pony. Children selling tickets will be given one chance for each ticket sold. Boys and girls can get tickets to sell by seeing Mr. Kelly at the stable.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kemper of Ocean View avenue have returned from a hunting trip to the northern part of the state. They were away six weeks and got the limit of deer, bringing back some fine trophies.

Mrs. Winifred W. Howard has received booklets from Mr. Howard, entitled "The Master Builder," edited by Mr. Howard and devoted to the interests of the Master Schools he is establishing in Fort Wayne, Ala.

Help Poor Students

Mr. Howard was a resident of Montrose for three years. The schools he is establishing are designed to help the poor people of the southern mountain districts and so arranged that students may work their way by agricultural work and manufacturing.

F. S. Howard, Montrose contractor, is completing a $3500 house at the corner of Ocean View avenue and Del Mar. He has plans for several other buildings for the near future.

Will Enjoin Liquor Advertising in Papers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The federal government will institute suits for injunctions against publications in New York and elsewhere, publishing liquor advertisements or other information relating to liquor prices, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes has announced.

Haynes ruled that under the Volstead act publications now carrying "ads" giving varying information about the so-called liquor market transgress the law and are punishable.

Life Is Like a Show
See the Sciots' Circus
Serving Others Good Game
Facts Live On, Forever

By Gil A. Cowan

Life has its little surprises, folks. Last night a few old cronies gathered together under a friendly roof tree and discussed some of the fellows we had known in years gone by—not so many years ago, either.

We could see some of our fellow workers of five and ten years ago or more still at the same old job, or one mighty similar. They seemed natural, a part of the scenery as it were. And they were insignificant in a certain respect.

For what did we do but talk about those who had started on the lowliest step and now were in New York or elsewhere holding down the best paid positions in their profession.

And it wasn't right, folks, for us to envy our brothers, yet it could not and never can be helped we suppose. Why, when we look back upon the work those fellows turned out in the days of yore we could not help but wonder "How come they to hold such high position, pomp and power?"

It is enough to set any man, or woman for that matter, to think why he, too, has not proceeded in the parade instead of staying back at the main tent to water the beasts of burden which do not feature in the parade.

You know, life is a show. We like to be in the parade. We like to be doing that which is majestic. We first like to carry the bass drum, then play the bass horn, then lead the band and, finally, we aspire to be the drum major or the major domo. It is only human.

Speaking of circus terms reminds the writer that the Sciots have a circus in Glendale this week, starting tonight. It should be some show. We have no doubt but what it will, for the Sciots are some live bunch.

Honestly, folks, if you have any reason to disbelieve us, go up to their big tent tonight and see what a run for your money you will get. They are after the money, to be sure, and the longer you hold out the more fun you will have. But take plenty of money along. It is going for a good cause. And stay with the crowd until the very finish. Play the game.

Playing the game is another thing we like to talk about in Glendale, for everyone here is playing the game, be it buying real estate, building homes or just plain living a life of happiness.

A lot of people here are playing the game of service. They are devoting their lives to making this old world of ours in general, and this fastest growing city in particular, a better place in which to live.

Some of the stories we could write of service! Why, they would amaze you. In fact, the audacity of the people who are so playing the game that you and I may not have a care is so sheer that the telling of the story would only touch us like the cut of a keen razor. We would hardly realize what had happened and quickly forget.

If you really want to learn of the service these many people perform it is necessary to have it drummed into your system by daily observation, like the writer has occasion to have drummed into his mind. And we watch with the greatest admiration certain men—and women, too—who are giving of themselves that others' lives may be more happy, more prosperous and more worth living.

After all, it must be a beautiful thought to go into eternal sleep with the watchword, "We served."

At times we may appear to be zealous to a cause, yet there is no question but what true and faithful service has a broadening effect which cannot be found in selfish ways.

So we ask, and and ask again, "What have you done to make Glendale better?"

And what have you done to make other people's lives better?

So on and so forth. Ten minutes of retrospection. One hour of introspection, and the rest of the day working for tomorrow. That is our formula for successful service.

What think you?

The Glendale Evening News is too optimistic to give itself to carping criticism. It is too busy preparing for the future to review the past. It has lived a happy, honest life. It has disdained usurping political power and it has never devoted itself to seeking public office.

Likely enough, no such office will be offered, although there has been a tendency on the part of the public to seek those who do not seek the pleasure and privilege of attending to the public's business.

Ofttimes occasion presented itself where we could point to the faults of others, the weaknesses of our brothers, and justly so, yet it is a rare occasion and on the greatest provocation that an ill word has been uttered.

The spoilers may come and go. Facts live on, forever. The ignorant may be fooled, but in their folly they learn from practical experience.

Some sage long ago said, "You can fool part of the people, part of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

And that is as true in Glendale as in Georgia.

Don't forget it, folks.

ADOPT RULES FOR ANN ARBOR GIRLS

Automobile and Canoe Rides Forbidden Unless Leave Comes From Home

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23.—No automobile or canoe riding without permission from home. Must not stay out after 11 p. m.

These two new regulations confront University of Michigan coeds this year, according to announcement today by Miss Jean Hamilton, dean of women.

As to smoking, Miss Hamilton has left it up to the girls themselves. Co-eds will vote on this, and smoking will be permitted in league houses where the girls approve.

Dean Hamilton gives considerable attention to just what is a proper parlor wherein romance may bud. The regulation in this connection says, in part:

"Glass doors are allowed. The door in the front hall must be kept open. The shades must be kept up. Houses with large verandas must either have a light upon them or a light from the hall and front window."

A list of approved dance halls has been sent to each house, and girls will be permitted to attend only these halls.

"We do not intend to take away the girls' freedom by these new regulations," said Miss Hamilton, "It is an effort to adjust their lives to better college work."

"COMALT"

Gives GLENDALE Nation-Wide Publicity at Eastern Convention.

Closing last Saturday there has been held at PROVIDENCE, R. I. a convention of the National Bottlers Association which has resulted in a tremendous business for a Glendale product.

We had our representatives at this convention demonstrating COMALT to those attending and are in receipt of wires that orders were taken amounting to

Over Five Hundred Thousand Dollars

This means added prosperity to Glendale, the bringing of money from other states here for a local product, larger payrolls and continuous advertising for our city.

Comalt Is a Chocolate Malted Milk

a perfect food drink and can be served either hot or cold.

These advantages so thoroughly appealed to the bottlers and distributors of the country that franchises were immediately taken up and besides this during the last few days we have received requests from hundreds who did not attend the convention.

Mail this morning brought inquiries from twenty-one different states as well as from Canada, all from dealers and bottling plants.

COMALT is a preparation that is suitable for every member of the family; either as a drink or food for the children is unequalled as every ingredient that goes into it is the best obtainable and is a mental and physical builder.

If your favorite soda fountain or druggist has not got COMALT already in stock tell him to get it from us; his supplies will always be fresh and of standard quality.

NOTRE DAME MAY PLAY L. A. GAME

Rockne's Huskies Tackle Stiff Schedule Against Best Eastern Teams

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—While eulogies are being cast upon the vagrant breezes concerning the speed, versatility, judgment and general worthiness that have become associated with the combination of Knute Rochne and Notre Dame, one fact seems to have been overlooked, to-wit: Notre Dame is attempting to snap off a schedule of games that is just a little bit tedious, even for the Rockne eleven.

The schedule is one of those affairs that college correspondents like to refer to as "ambitious." It is a weak term in its present application. That schedule would break the back of a steel girder. Evidently it is Rockne's idea to start at the top and work up.

First off, the team came east to Ebbets field, knocked the Army off by two touchdowns and went home. Five days later it was headed east again and this time it made the visit more or less memorable by beating Princeton some twenty-three points.

Georgia Tech. Next

The team has nothing to look forward to in the immediate future, except a game on Saturday with Georgia Tech. for years the greatest team and certainly the most consistent in the south. Neither Harvard nor Yale would care very much about taking on Tech at this stage of the incipient proceedings.

Purdue, one of the chronically weaker "big ten" elevens, follows Georgia Tech, in the Notre Dame schedule, probably so that Rockne can get the young men accustomed to taking the low hurdles in a stride as well as the high. The next stop is Lincoln, Neb., where Fred Dawson's Nebraska Corn Huskers, always a series of unpleasantness to Notre Dame in recent seasons will be taken on. No team is choosing the Huskers by preference, either.

Invited to Los Angeles

Butler is next in line. We know little about the team in question, but we imagine the affair constitutes what technically might be called a "breather." However, Butler may be the kind of breather one takes under ten feet of water.

The final game on the regular schedule involves another trip east to Pittsburgh to play Carnegie Tech. Around Pittsburgh, Carnegie is fancied above the Pitt Panthers, which means that the Plaid outfit is no wind-blown cinch.

And the end is not yet. It is understood that Notre Dame has accepted an invitation to play a California team, probably Southern California, at Los Angeles, on Christmas day.

Ambitious? This schedule is down-right heroic.

Arrested on Burglary Charge; Is Innocent

Ray East, 121 West Lexington, saw a man enter his house Monday afternoon by the rear door, and shortly after emerge from the front door. Mr. East called the police department and then shadowed the supposed burglar.

Sergeants Blake and Simmons hastened to the scene and placed the man under arrest, only to find that he was S. Mitchell, proprietor of the New York Delicatessen, who had gone to the neighborhood to awaken a man, and had entered the wrong house.

Donoghue Beaten in Second American Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Steve Donoghue, England's leading jockey, failed again yesterday afternoon in his attempt to ride a winner on the American turf.

Donoghue had the mount on August Belmont's Ladkin, second choice in the fourth race at Empire. He finished third in a field of four, trailing H. T. Waters, a 15-to-1 shot, ridden by Clarence Kummer. Earle Sande was expected to ride the Rancocas entry, Bracadale, but the mount was ridden by L. Fator.

ly complimented the Glendale and Hollywood Knights on their fine spirit and accomplishments.

Other speakers were Charles Malcom, Robert Wankowski, George Bunton, Andrew J. Copp and Percy Priaulx, James Wilson, and Dr. Hogue.

Harding Lauded

High tribute was paid by all speakers to the late president, Warren G. Harding, who was to have presented the international Traveling Beauseant to the Hollywood Commandery.

Southern California Knights are at present anticipating journeying to Covina on Saturday to participate in the field meet at the Masonic home there. A special plea for hearty support of this event was made last night. Another interest is the institution of the De Molay chapter at Van Nuys Saturday night, November 3. Glendale and Hollywood Knights are to attend this event in full uniform.

On Monday night, October 29, there will be another dinner given by the Glendale Commandery in honor of Charles Malcom, of Long Beach, deputy grand commander, who, with Audrey Park, inspector of Department No. 8, and their staff will make an annual inspection of the work of the Glendale Knights.

Orioles Take Seventh in Minor Title Tilt

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.—Baltimore, International league champions, yesterday beat Kansas City, pennant winners of the American association, in the seventh game of the minor league world's series. The Blues made a determined ninth inning rally, driving "Lefty" Groves off the mound, but were checked after scoring five runs. Ferdie Schupp, former pitcher for the New York Giants, started for the Blues, but was driven from the mound in the fifth inning. The victory is the third for the Baltimore team in the series.

Defeated British Horse Starts Home

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The axiom—"To the victor belongs the spoils"—was evident in the case of Papyrus.

England's mightiest 3-year-old, who trailed Zev in the international race on Saturday, was taken on board the Aquitania yesterday preparatory to sailing tomorrow for England. Unlike, however, the crowds and the reception which awaited the horse when he first arrived in this country, only the retinue of the Ben Irish stables and a number of ship hands were present when Papyrus was led on board the vessel.

Basil Jarvis, trainer, and Steve Donoghue, jockey, have also booked passage to sail on the Aquitania.

Cities of this country have a total of 60,000 miles of paved streets.
